We Endorse Hale Boggs

The Shreveport Times, the Monroe World and the Monroe News-Star unequivocally endorse Rep. Hale Boggs of New Orleans for governor of Louisiana. This decision has come after months of searching study of all the candidates—of their platforms, their campaign speeches, their records in or out of public office. It comes also from background of political independence which is an editorial keystone of these newspapers. We did not oppose or support any candidate in the 1948 primaries, in which Earl K. Long was elected governor. Neither did we oppose or support either candidate in the 1944 second primary in which Jimmy Davis was elected governor.

From this impartial viewpoint, for the past 10 years, we are firmly convinced that:

1. Election of Hale Boggs will place state government in Louisiana on a high plane of morality, integrity and decency. It will restore respect for our state government—respect now sadly lacking not only in Louisiana but in the 47 other states. It will bring competent administration with no special clique, class, or group ministration with no especial clique, class, or group granted special favors.

2. Hale Boggs is unusually well equipped by training and experience in both political office and private life for worthy leadership in facing today's grave Louisiana problems. No other candidate has the good fortune to have had his training and experience in both to a similar degree.

3. We think that of all anti-state administration candidates, Mr. Boggs has the strongest chance of being elected. His election will end the huge Baton Rouge bureaucracy which daily becomes more and more Stalinist in its functioning. Mr. Boggs did not seek opportunity to run for governor. He was brought into this race after many months of urging by leadership from within every political faction in Louisiana. No other candidate has such support, or could obtain it. He is independent in fact, not merely in fancy. Because of this, his election will bring an independent legislature and an end to rubber stamp legislating under the snap of a dictatorial whip-master. Political independence in the state legislature is the greatest structural need in Louisiana government today. Only the Boggs candidacy offers this opportunity and pledge.

The greatest economic problem before every Louisiana citizen today is taxation. The present state administration has made us the highest taxed state in the nation and virtually the most heavily indebted per capita. Such a condition keeps new business and industry—payrolls—from the state. It throttles the laborer, hogs the farmer, sandbags the white collar man, reduces income of everyone, and jeopardizes the economic progress of business, industry and the professions.

During four terms in the federal house of representatives Hale Boggs served as a leading member of the Ways and Means Committee, through which all federal tax legislation must originate and pass. He knows taxation from every angle—as no other candidate for governor has had an opportunity to know it. He has the experience and qualifications for worthy leadership in solving this problem—and it must be solved if the state is to avoid economic skid row.

More than any other one person on the Ways and Means committee, Mr. Boggs inspired, directed, and won the battle in the recent session of congress to prevent the Truman administration from altering the oil depletion allowance in federal taxation, thus blocking Truman efforts to tie a millstone around the neck of the petroleum industry of Louisiana and other states—the industry which is the foundation of this state's payrolls. Hale Boggs is admired and respected for this fight throughout the oil states of the nation.

Mr. Boggs vigorously supported the Kerr gas bill which President Truman vetoed.

He has played an outstanding part in the battle against Truman administration seizure of our tidelands.

He is a vigorous opponent of the Truman administration's program of socialized medicine through the camouflage of federalization of health insurance, or any other means.

During his eight years in congress Mr. Boggs militantly has opposed the proposed St. Lawrence seaway through which the Washington administration seeks to federalize power production while at the same time blackjacking Southern industrial development—especially in Louisiana with its great port city of New Orleans and its lesser but vital ports.

U. S. Promises France 600 Million Dollars

By Carl Hartman

Paris, Dec. 1.—(AP)—The cabinet announced today United States officials have pledged France $600 million in direct aid and defense spending before next July 1. French fears of a pinch in gasoline, coal and other commodities faded accordingly.

Finance Minister Rene Mayer gave the cabinet the news. Until now he had been counting on only $350 million.

For the past 10 days, Mayer said, he has been talking about dollar problems with Secretary of State Dean Acheson, Defense Secretary Robert Lovett and Aid Coordinator W. Averell Harriman. He added that the talks are still going on and that France can draft her military budget only when they are finished.

"This was the basis," said the official report of the cabinet meeting, "on which M. Mayer obtained the assurance that the U. S. will furnish us $600 million during the Washington, Dec. 1.—(AP)—The ranking Republican member of the house armed services committee called on President Truman and the administration to "come clean" with the American people on what is happening in Korea instead of "cavorting" war correspondents.

Rep. Short of Missouri issued a statement in which he said:

"It is clear that the instructions issued to the 8th army during the past week, however they may have been worded, were such as to result in a near-halt in ground fighting.

"The press and radio correspondents who were at the front lines and who witnessed this occurrence would have been derelict if they had not reported this fact to the American people.

"Yet, for doing their plain duty, the newspapers and news services have been castigated by President Truman and his press secretary, Joseph Short, disputing an Associated Press dispatch, published Wednesday, that on orders from the highest source—possibly from the White House—ground fighting had been brought to a complete, if temporary, halt.

MRS. HARPER'S FUNERAL TODAY

Rites To Be Held For Well Known Resident Who Died Friday

The funeral of Mrs. Vivian Wallace Harper, 57, wife of City Judge W. M. Harper, who died at her home, 1412 Island Drive, Friday, will be held in the Mulhearn Funeral home, where a Christian Service service will be conducted this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment will be in the Riverview Burial Park.

Active pallbearers will be Dr. W. L. Bendel, C. B. Braun, Joe B. Dawkins, Maurice Frazier, John Fox, Claude Harrison, B. D. Allerton, H. L. Rosenchein and John Joseph. Honorary pallbearers will be all friends of the family.

Mrs. Harper was one of the founders and organizers of the Monroe Little Theatre and was on the Board of Directors for many years.

Mrs. Harper, widely known and highly regarded, had been active in educational and social circles until the past several years when failing health required that she live a more retired life. Her death was so sudden as to prove a great shock to her family and close friends.

West Monroe Council Likes Federal Housing Project

West Monroe's city government appears unshaken on its stand in favor of the proposed federal housing project, despite the fact that the West Monroe Businessmen's Association has approved unanimously a proposal to fight the program.

In separate interviews, all four members said they were still in favor of the program. Mayor C. C. Bell, Jr., said that he too was still up to the program.

The only indication of a compromise came from Aldermen John P. McKee and Jack Bagwell. McKee said that if the businessmen's argument proved reasonable he may propose that the decision be left up to the people on a "non-vote" basis.

Jack Bagwell said he still intended to make such a proposal, unless the opposition offers concrete reasoning against it or proposes something better for solving West

Monroe's low-rent housing problem.

Bagwell said he considered the program a progressive opportunity for West Monroe.

Whether or not the housing program comes to West Monroe is left to the discretion of the city government.

It may either accept or reject it.

The program has been set up under federal law on that basis.

McKee's plan of letting the people decide the issue, in case he sees fit to make such a proposal, would not cost the city the expense of calling a special election.

He said he thought a representative opinion could be drawn by asking each citizen, when he pays his water bill, to designate his preference (for or against) at the city clerk's office.

All members of the board of aldermen said or agreed at the last board meeting that if the proposed

CHURCH SYSTEM FOR LA. PLANNED

United Evangelist Mission Slated December Second To Seventh

An elaborate communications network has been arranged to make daily results available to every church in Louisiana participating in the great United Evangelist Mission which will be conducted December 2 through 7. Thirty pastors of the Monroe district of the Methodist church will receive such word daily at the group meetings at First Methodist Church here as they gather for instruction and inspiration with the visiting pastors from Arkansas.

The details of the network have been worked out by the Rev. Howard Ellis, Nashville, Tenn., public communications chairman for the Methodist general board of evangelism and the Rev. Joe Edwards, also of Nashville, a member of the staff of the United Evangelistic Mission.

Through a system of conference telephone calls, the mission reports will move from the individual churches to the district schools of evangelism to the church conference centers, and thence to the Area Headquarters in Little Rock, Ark. The system will be reversed when all data have been assimilated and analyzed. The Rev. Earl B. Emmerich, First Methodist Church of Rayville, is the chairman of the report system for the Monroe district.

Thirteen such United Evangelistic Missions have been held in American Methodism in the fall of 1951 with total commitments to Christ and His church of 76,000. The leading mission so far reported is the Syracuse, N. Y. area with 13,702 commitments.

There are eighteen U. E. M. programs remaining on schedule in the United States for the next three months covering about 9,000 charges and 14,063 churches.

The Arkansas-Louisiana mission will enter its second phase in January when Louisiana ministers go to Arkansas in a reciprocal program.

Active pallbearers will be Dr. W. L. Bendel, C. B. Braun, Joe B. Dawkins, Maurice Frazier, John Fox, Claude Harrison, B. D. Allbritton, H. L. Rosenheim and John Joseph. Honorary pallbearers will be all friends of the family.

Mr. Harper comes to Monroe from Charlotte, N. C., where he served as public and labor relations director and was on the management committee of the Charlotte Observer. He is a former publisher of the Goldsboro, N. C., News-Argus and prior to that he had many years of experience in newspaper executive positions in Mississippi and Texas. He is a native Texan and spent most of his early life in that state.

He formerly was southern manager for the Duplex Printing Press Co. with offices in New Orleans.

At the conclusion of the present school semester in Charlotte, Mrs. Harper and their daughter, Genevieve 13, will join Mr. Harper here. Mrs. Harper is the former Miss LaVerne Kellam of Shreveport, where she is well known, and there are a number of residents of the Twin Cities who knew her during her residence there.

Until the arrival of his family, Mr. Harper is residing at Hotel Virginia.

Mr. Harper has always taken a large and active part in civic life of the communities in which he has lived. In Charlotte, he was a member of the Carmel Country Club, City Club, Advertising Club, Sales Executives Club, Quarterback Club and of the Myers Park Baptist Church.

Robt. C. Butz Named Assistant Publisher

Announcement has been made by Wilson Ewing, editor and publisher of the Monroe News-Star and Morning World, of the appointment of Robert C. Butz to the position of assistant publisher of these newspapers.

As assistant publisher, Mr. Butz will exercise direct supervision of the activities of the two newspapers. Mr. Ewing will continue general supervision in his capacity as editor and publisher.

Mr. Butz comes to Monroe from Charlotte, N. C., where he served as public and labor relations director and was on the management committee of the Charlotte Observer. He is a former publisher of the Goldsboro, N. C., News-Argus and prior to that he had many years of experience in newspaper executive positions in Mississippi and Texas. he has already assumed active duty as assistant publisher, Mr. Butz has met a large number of businessmen and others in the Twin Cities and has made plans for active participation in civic and community affairs. He has quickly won the respect and admiration of the public and of the many employees of the two newspapers with which he is associated here.

According to Robert H. Rivers, Grayson, who was driving the automobile, a 1950 Ford, involved in the wreck, was pulling out of a driveway onto the highway when the Chevrolet truck driven by one of the soldiers attempted to turn into a drive-in bar. When the driver of the truck did not make the turn, he continued down the road and ran into the Rivers' automobile.

A Camp Polk ambulance was sent to return the soldiers to the base hospital.

Both of the vehicles were demolished.

of Lake Charles and Baton Rouge and potentially—through the Overton Canal—Shreveport itself.

Similarly he has fought steadily to protect and develop waterways of the state and of the South, and to tie our Louisiana waterways more deeply into the huge Mississippi—Ohio Valley and Trans-Coastal systems. With this has come active support for flood control, drainage and navigation, which are so vital to both agricultural and industrial development of all parts of Louisiana.

He has the confidence of farm, labor, and business leadership.

Mr. Boggs' fight in congress against Communism and subversives in government is listed indelibly in many parts of the Congressional Record as far back as 1941, when he introduced anti-Communist legislation. Few congressmen or the nation were giving this a thought at that time.

He introduced the bill to keep members of subversive organizations from joining labor unions.

He introduced the bill, now federal law, to compel registration of Communist front organizations.

He introduced the bill, now federal law, to prohibit picketing of federal courts, a device by which Communists sought to disrupt justice and discredit the judiciary.

He voted to override President Truman's veto of the bill, now law, to bar Communist infiltration into this country from overseas and to compel registration of Communists.

When the recent session of congress adjourned, Mr. Boggs was attempting to obtain legislation to tighten laws against subversives and increase penalties against agents of foreign governments.

Hale Boggs is a solid American born and bred. His ancestry goes back beyond the days of the American Revolution. His forefathers first settled in Louisiana in 1800 and helped set the roots of this state. With his gracious wife, also of a very old New Roads, La. family, and their three fine children, Louisiana would be proud of the Boggs family as its official "First Family."

Mr. Boggs has been a constant crusader for honest, moral, decent government—administered by officials of the highest possible personal integrity. In 1939, when the nation-rocking Louisiana Scandals broke in Baton Rouge, Mr. Boggs (though then only in his mid-twenties in age) became chairman of the People's League of Louisiana, which was organized in New Orleans to force prosecution of state administration corruption.

Under his leadership, this organization staged mass meetings, aroused public opinion, and was a vital factor in the exposures and cleanup that followed. When Earl K. Long, who had become governor through resignation of his corrupt predecessor, originally refused to open the conservation department books, it was Mr. Boggs and the People's League that led the fight for publicity. When publicity finally came, it revealed a trail of graft, corruption, and looting of the public purse that is the blackest spot in Louisiana's political history since Reconstruction days.

Mr. Boggs campaigned in the New Orleans political fight that ousted the political machine of former Mayor Robert Maestri and installed Mayor de Lesseps Morrison. While we have disagreed with Mayor Morrison at times and may do so again, none would deny that he has lived up to his promises of clean and constructive government and has given New Orleans a fine city administration.

Mayor Morrison, and his political colleagues in New Orleans, like these newspapers, spent months in searching study of every candidate in the present gubernatorial race before deciding whom to support. In the end the mayor, his political committees and caucuses, the women's auxiliary of his city administration, and other small organized political groups decided that Boggs was not the best qualified man in the race but the one candidate with whom the Baton Rouge bureaucracy could be overthrown.

Mayor Morrison is notoriously anti-state administration. The cleanliness of his own administration is recognized everywhere. The people of New Orleans re-elected him to a second term by the biggest landslide ever recorded in a New Orleans city election. They re-elected him on his record of clean government and he has continued that record in his second term. The support of Mayor Morrison and of the many fine New Orleans men and women who stand by him in his fight for good government is proof of the clean life of Hale Boggs and of Mr. Boggs' own stand for the finest in government at any level. He is one candidate who is certain to be high man in his own home town—and New Orleans casts about one-third of the total vote of the state.

Arguments of some candidates that President Truman and his Washington forces put Mr. Boggs into this race, that if elected he would deliver Louisiana to the Truman forces in 1952, and that he is some kind of a "double entry candidate" with Governor Long's personal candidate are so much dribble and disappear when exposed to the facts.

President Truman had no more to do with Mr. Boggs entering this race than Prime Minister Nehru of India had with drawing up Shreveport's 1952 city budget. If there is one person in the United States who knows that Mr. Boggs is not a milk-toast satellite of the Washington administration it is Harry S. Truman himself. Mr. Boggs' vigorous opposition to many of the president's pet political schemes—some of which are cited above and more will be cited in later editorials—make that clear as crystal.

As for 1952, Mr. Boggs stated here in Shreveport and elsewhere—publicly, orally and in writing—that if elected governor of Louisiana he will do everything possible to block renomination of Mr. Truman in the Democratic national convention; that if Mr. Truman is the nominee he will join 100 per cent in whatever course is taken by responsible leadership of the potential Southern Revolt—such as Senators Byrd, Russell and George, and Governor Byrnes. Is there any candidate in this race speaking more plainly than that?

As for the "double entry," Mr. Boggs' own denunciations of Governor Long, and Governor Long's frequent attacks on Mr. Boggs and others supporting him, answer that question. No one could follow the campaign of either of these men and believe the "double entry" drive.

The contention that being a "politician"—being a holder of public office—is a disqualification for holding of some other public office is ridiculous. On that basis many of our presidents of the United States would have been disqualified—Thomas Jefferson, Grover Cleveland, Woodrow Wilson, Calvin Coolidge for example—and neither Senators Byrd nor Russell, or Governor Byrnes, could be considered as a Southern candidate in 1952.

One of the reasons we support Hale Boggs is because he has proven in high public office—over a period of eight years—that he is qualified to hold high public office. As a member of congress he has served with credit to his post, with benefit to his state, and with distinction for himself.

In supporting Hale Boggs for governor of Louisiana, nothing we have said in the past in disagreement either with him or any who support him. We have changed our basic editorial position. We reserve the right to disagree with Mr. Boggs honestly, fairly, and constructively in the future if we see fit—whether he is or is not governor. We recognize the right of every citizen to agree or disagree with our evaluation, and of every voter to vote exactly as he or she sees fit; we urge that this be the course of all. We present no brief, here against any other candidate.

We simply believe, after careful and searching study over a long period of time, that Hale Boggs is the best qualified man in the race, that his election will assure Louisiana a sincerely administered government in which personal integrity and fundamental honesty will be placed far above mere legality; and that he alone of all the candidates can muster the unified support from various political factions that is essential to victory over the present state administration.

THESE DAYS

THE CHILDREN'S FUND

May I ask my publishers and editors and readers to permit me this once to write an advertisement. It is for the International Children's Emergency Fund of the United Nations. It is for children.

Each Christmas this fund sells Christmas cards, the proceeds of which are used to help children all over the world. This year, they are issuing two kinds of cards, one rather formal, the other, by Dagmar Starcke, a Danish artist, full of color and delightful for children to send to each other.

The cards are sold at the United Nations and may be purchased by writing to UNICEF greeting card fund, United Nations, New York.

War takes a greater toll of children than of soldiers. Many are killed. Many are maimed. Many are starved. Many forever suffer from shock. Many grow into adults, broken in mind and spirit and suffering the perversions of twisted personalities.

When sons die before their fathers, the tragedy is that the natural ties of family life are broken. Under any circumstance, without a wholesome family environment in childhood, a child grows like an unpruned rose bush. After each war in Europe, thousands of parentless children become a social and moral problem.

The children's fund is no substitute for a normal family environment for a child but it does mean that love and charity and compassion have not altogether shrivelled in these troubled times. It means that charity is not dead.

The executive director of the children's fund is Maurice Pate, an American from Denver, Colo., for whom I have not only admiration but affection because he has given long years, from the relief agencies of Herbert Hoover in World War I to this very day, to help other human beings, particularly children. It is heartening to realize that there are still many men and women who think not of themselves but of what they can do, each perhaps in a small way, to make life less tragic for these hostages to war and hate.

Herbert Hoover was able to gather a crew of such men for his various relief enterprises, beginning with Belgian relief. Many of them were volunteers. There was nothing in this work for any of them—not even honors. None of them have advertised their virtues or sought credit for their labors.

Once a year, many of them still meet at a dinner, often addressed by the chief. It is a quiet peaceful, kindly group that calls itself the A. R. A. and they recall feeding Belgians, aiding Polish children, bringing food to thousands of the hungry of Russia, and laboring to safeguard women, children and old men among the enemy as among friends. Somehow some of these men have gained out of their experience a selflessness that remains with them through life and that many of us seek but lose on the road of life.

And so, there is the children's fund that moves about the world seeking out the little ones who have done no wrong but who suffer most. When you look at those pictures of Korea in the newspapers, of the roads on which little children search for their parents, or perhaps hope to attach themselves to some American whose warm hand feels like a father's—must you not want to put a Christmas tree right there in the middle of that road, a tree just covered with candies and cakes and little joys that every child's heart must crave?

Wars make the world cold. We have had 37 years of war and we are becoming so used to horror and hunger and death that we take everything in our stride. Death no longer makes terror.

But many Americans never grow so hard that the suffering of a child does not bring a tear nor that unspoken fear that it might have been our own.

That is why now, for the second year, I make this appeal to my publishers, editors and readers to support this mercy. It calls for so small an expenditure, yet I cannot get that it was the pennies of American school children that erected the statue of liberty. Must we not bring hope, if not liberty, to children the world over?

Last year, the children's fund sold out all the cards they had printed. Perhaps this year, we shall do better—we shall require them to continue to print cards until the very eve of Christmas.

TRUE PROSPECTS

A plurality of editors is cautiously optimistic that Communist agreement with U. N. truce line proposals indicates the Communists wish to write off their Korean aggression, in time, with as little loss of prestige as possible. Only a small minority feels that a full armistice may be achieved within the 30-40 day period of the provisional truce line agreement, based on the present fighting line. A very large minority of editors, noting especially Russia's increased air-power aid to China, still doubts that a U. N. policy of limited war in Korea will result in any real armistice in the foreseeable future.

(Wilmington Del.) Morning News (Ind.): "If during the 30-day period, agreement is reached in the three unsettled points on the agenda, shooting will stop and a buffer zone five miles wide will be established on the agreed line. If not, full-scale fighting will be resumed . . . In that event, the revised line will not be established until everything else is agreed upon. If we could credit the Reds with normal mental processes, we would reach agreement on other points within 30 days; otherwise they would never have made such a deal. But there is no telling what their demands may be . . ."

(Tampa, Fla.) Tribune (Ind.): "In agreeing to this line, the North Koreans and Chinese Communists have made a major concession. All along they have insisted that a buffer zone should be created immediately and finally before discussing other items on the agenda . . . Had our negotiators agreed to a final cease-fire line in advance, the Communists would have been relieved of the military pressure that has forced them to talk business . . . This brighter turn inspires hope that progress in the truce talks will be faster from now on, with the prospect of a workable armistice by Christmas."

(St. Louis (Mo.) Globe-Democrat (Ind.): "Principal problems to be settled yet are terms for supervision of the armistice, exchange of war prisoners and recommendations to belligerent governments. Any or all of these could drag out the discussions more futile months . . . But the air could be much cleared by a buffer zone agreement. The first "gambol for sulphur"—intended to obtain additional supplies to meet foreign commitments for defense uses, and at the same time protect our own limited reserves—will be launched soon at Bay St. Elaine, 100 miles southwest of New Orleans, in a swampy area subject to high winds and tropical storms.

The costly venture contemplates production of sulphur deep beneath water, mud and swamp grass from a salt dome formation. It is being undertaken by Freeport Sulphur Co., whose president Langbourne M. Williams, Jr., warns that the real crisis in sulphur will not come, when the defense program swings into high gear, than that the pinch will hurt.

Williams, a Virginian who took over his present job at the age of 30, says that it is up to Washington and the national production authority to decide the "relative defense essentiality" of industries requiring sulphur and make shipments accordingly.

He has one positive recommendation: that the total allocated be no greater than the amount of sulphur currently produced. Otherwise, he says, he will be forced to dig into our sulphur reserves above ground, which are already at a minimum for national security. NPA is expected to issue an order soon limiting uses of sulphur. Nobody can forecast yet whether enough will be available to meet all essential defense needs.

It is estimated that unit costs at Bay St. Elaine, requiring a plant that must be built on a huge barge and floated to the site, will be three to four times those in erecting the plant at Grand Calle, the world's second largest brimstone mine, in 1932-33.

Williams and other producers say that the country is hardly aware of the number of essential industries which must have vast quantities of sulphur, which is the reason a gamble must be made for new supplies. The Bay St. Elaine plant will pump 2,000,000 gallons of super heated water daily to melt the sub surface sulphur, and not until the plant is in operation will be known whether the gamble pays off.

Half the world's sulphur now comes from Louisiana and Texas in the vicinity of the Gulf of Mexico, from seven domes.

Some companies such as American Viscose, makers of acetate and rayon yarns have already cut production in anticipation of sulphur limitation. The most apprehensive industry is automotive. Car makers figure that sulphur shortage could reduce the 1952 production as much as any other factor.

But many Americans never grow so hard that the suffering of a child does not bring a tear nor that unspoken fear that it might have been our own.

That is why now, for the second year, I make this appeal to my publishers, editors and readers to support this mercy. It calls for so small an expenditure, yet I cannot go for it that it was the pennies of American school children that erected the statue of liberty. Must we not bring hope, if not liberty, to children the world over?

Last year, after this appeal was made, the children's fund sold out all the cards they had printed. Perhaps this year, we shall do better—we shall require them to continue to print cards until the very eve of Christmas.

BIBLE THOUGHTS:

The glory of the Lord shall endure for ever: the Lord shall rejoice in his works.—Psalms 104:31.

This is eternal life; a life of everlasting love, showing itself in everlasting good works; and whosoever lives that life, he lives the life of God, and hath eternal life.—Charles Kingsley.

with Mr. Boggs honestly, fairly, and constructively in the future if we see fit—whether he is or is not governor. We recognize the right of every citizen to agree or disagree with our evaluation, and of every voter to vote exactly as he or she sees fit; we urge that this be the course of all. We present no brief here against any other candidate.

We simply believe, after careful and searching study over a long period of time, that Hale Boggs is the best qualified man in the race, that his election will assure Louisiana a sincerely administered government in which personal integrity and fundamental honesty will be placed far above mere legality; and that he alone of all the candidates can muster the unified support from various political factions that is essential to victory over the present state administration.

Editors Roundtable

TRUCE PROSPECTS

A plurality of editors is cautiously optimistic that Communist agreement with U. N. truce line proposals indicates the Communists wish to write off their Korean aggression, in time, with as little loss of prestige as possible. Only a small minority feels that a full armistice may be achieved within the 30-day period of the provisional truce line agreement, based on the present fighting line. A very large minority of editors, noting especially Russia's increased air-power aid to China, still doubts that a U. N. policy of limited war in Korea will result in any real armistice in the foreseeable future.

Wilmington (Del.) Morning News (Ind.): "If during the 30-day period, agreement is reached in the three unsettled points on the agenda, shooting will stop and a buffer zone five miles wide will be established on the agreed line. If not, full-scale fighting will be resumed."

... In that event, the revised line will not be established until everything else is agreed upon. If we could credit the Reds with normal mental processes, we would reach agreement on other points within 30 days; otherwise they would never have made such a deal. But there is no telling what their demands may be..."

Tampa (Fla.) Tribune (Ind. Dem.): "In agreeing to this plan, the North Koreans and Chinese Communists have made a major concession. All along they have insisted that a buffer zone should be created immediately and finally before discussing other items on the agenda... Had our negotiators agreed to a final cease-fire line in advance, the Communists would have been relieved of the military pressure that has forced them to talk business... This brighter turn inspires hope that progress in the truce talks will be faster from now on, with the prospect of a workable armistice by Christmas."

St. Louis (Mo.) Globe-Democrat (Ind.): "Principal problems to be settled yet are terms for supervision of the armistice, exchange of war prisoners and recommendations to belligerent governments. Any or all of these could drag out the discussions more futile months... But the air could be much cleared by a buffer zone agreement. This means Moscow has given sanction to a major concession; it implies the Kremlin wants to star at his Shamrock Hotel, deny a romance, but they've been inseparable since his hop from Cairo... Jack LaRue has taken on Ayers. Her first name is Phyllis... Gilbert Miller's two productions of Cleopatra (Shakespeare's and Shaw's) starring the Oliviers, must attract $69,000 per week to break even... The Street of Hits (W. 45th) just lost five flops... Irving Berlin's three daughters each have investments of $1,000 in the Henry Fonda play, 'Point of No Return,' which arrives next month with out-of-town 'hit' reviews... Barbara Stanwyck, always the star gets 3rd billing in her current film, 'The Man with a Cloak,' which features J. Cotten and Leslie Caron... The N. Y. C. Police Dept., in finding the Stork Club not guilty on the Josephine Baker charges of discrimination, confirms what we've argued all along. Now jump to the last paragraph."

current excitors but local police are chuckling over some of its flaws... In the movie they fingerprinted Lee Grant, the shoplifter... In real life this is petit larceny and they do not finger-print such larcenists... On the way to the hospital in a patrol wagon the driver turns back to the station house. They tell Kirk Douglas they just got word to return—because the patient died... New York paddy wagons do not have short-wave radios... Most flagrant boner—not precinct in Our town would permit a 45¢ loser (especially a killer) to hang around a station house that long. They'd book him at once and cell him. (Fussy, ain't he?)

From the Pittsburgh Courier, the Negro newspaper in the U. S. with the heaviest circulation... There has been much ado about the alleged discrimination against Josephine Baker and three friends at the Stork Club. The party entered the crowded place, were seated, were served drinks, but when they placed their order for food it was necessary to wait nearly an hour before service was given, whereupon they refused the food and walked out.

"What happened afterward is a perfect example of wrongheadedness, hysteria and hypersensitivity: i.e., color discrimination was charged, the NAACP rushed in to fit with an imaginary windmill... Walter Winchell was denounced because he was present and allegedly did not rush to Miss Baker's defense, a picket line was thrown in front of the Stork Club apparently for demagogic publicity purposes, Actors' Equity and other actors and musicians' associations were urged to 'take action' and altogether a great rhubarb was raised, probably to the delight of Moscow. This will probably go down in history as the flimsiest case of 'discrimination' on record and smeared over with a large whitewash of hypocrisy.

"It may be helpful to the participants and their misdirected defenders, but it is difficult to see how it will help Negroes generally or in any way advance their cause. There are numerous flagrant cases of color discrimination to be fought everywhere, and it would seem that those advancing the cause of Negroes would expend their time and energies fighting those cases.

"In this case there was no evidence shown that service was refused (on the contrary the 'offended' party was served drinks) but only that the people had to wait a long time for food service, which everybody has to do in a popular eating place during rush hour. Many passengers have had to wait almost as long for service in a dining car on a crowded train, but have not attributed this wait to some plot against them.

"Let us not waste time on built-up cases of this sort which at worst are borderline (assuming the waiters were purposely dilatory) but rather save our energies for the real, flagrant instances of bias. Let us discourage 'Wolf! Wolf!' crying and the hysterical denunciation of proven friends of long standing in order to get cheap headlines."

In Washington With BASCOM TIMMONS

The first "gamble for sulphur"—intended to obtain additional supplies to meet foreign commitments for defense uses, and at the same time protect our own limited reserves—will be launched soon at Bay St. Elaine, 100 miles southwest of New Orleans, in a swampy area subject to high winds and tropical storms.

The costly venture contemplates production of sulphur deep beneath water, mud and swamp grass from a salt dome formation. It is being undertaken by Freeport Sulphur Co., whose president Langbourne M. Williams, Jr., warns that the real crisis in sulphur is still to come, when the defense program swings into high gear, and that the pinch will hurt.

Williams, a Virginian who took over his present job at the age of 30 says that it is up to Washington and the national production authority to decide the "relative defense essentiality" of industries requiring sulphur and make shipments accordingly.

He has one positive recommendation: that the total allocated be no greater than the amount of sulphur currently produced. Otherwise, he says, it will be forced to dig into our sulphur reserves above ground, which are already at a minimum for national security. NPA is expected to issue an order soon limiting uses of sulphur. Nobody can forecast yet whether enough will be available to meet all essential defense needs.

It is estimated that unit costs at Bay St. Elaine, requiring a plant that must be built on a huge barge and floated to the site, will be three to four times those in erecting the plant at Grand Ecalle, the world's second largest brimstone mine, in 1932-33.

Williams and other producers say that the country is hardly aware of the number of essential industries which must have vast quantities of sulphur, which is the reason a gamble must be made for new supplies. The Bay St. Elaine plant will pump 2,000,000 gallons of super heated water daily to melt the sub surface sulphur, and not until the plant is in operation will be known whether the gamble pays off.

Half the world's sulphur now comes from Louisiana and Texas in the vicinity of the Gulf of Mexico, from seven domes.

Some companies such as American Viscose, makers of acetate and rayon yarns have already cut production in anticipation of sulphur limitation. The most apprehensive industry is automotive. Car makers figure that sulphur shortage could reduce the 1952 production as much as any other factor.

Apparently Louisiana and Texas as much develop new sources which come into existence. There is sulphur in some western states, Wyoming and possibly Montana, but what there is will probably be ruled to be in the reserve category.

The sulphur situation, with little new production being made available in Europe, is one of the most striking examples of how close the U. S. could come to being a "have not" nation in some important respects in event of World War III.

A young reporter who went to cover the 50th anniversary of the bureau of plant industry soils and agricultural engineering of the department of agriculture and complained that the name was too long to go into the lead of his story was promptly put in his place by a couple of old timers, back for the ceremonies, who told him that prior to 1901 the correct designation for that bureau was:

"The associated division of vegetables physiology and pathology gardens and grounds, pomology, astrogony and botany, seed and plant introduction and congressional seed distribution."

Whatever became of that congressional seed distribution—once the only government handout the country could rely upon?

Big scale farmers, who rely more and more on crop spraying by airplane have been warned that 60 per cent of the pilots who do the dusting and spraying—there are 6,400 of them—are subject to recall to active military duty. Spraying of insecticide by air expanded rapidly after war, and called for least 1,000 hours of previous pilot experience.

The spraying service possibly accounts for the difficulty commercial airlines had in retaining pilots after World War II. Against the 6,400 pilots who keep down the bugs, the air lines have 7,250. But the boys who fly the fields instead of the wild blue yonder are more independent and work only at intervals.

Over 1,000,000 Miles Without Road Accident

Logging a total of 1,029,952 miles along highways in his Missouri Pacific coach between Monroe and Natchez in 16 years time, and all with a single accident is the brilliant record of Ernest M. Hammonds, known from his size as "Pee Wee" by his fellow drivers, who banters him and he enjoys it. Hammonds who lives at 205

The magazine article states in part as follows:

"He has driven in good weather and bad, day in and day out over roads sometimes good and sometimes not so good. But day in and day out, regardless of the state of the weather or the condition of the roads over which he had to travel, 'Pee Wee' Hammonds has started out from Monroe at the wheel of a Missouri Pacific bus — and has returned to his home base, always without having a reportable accident charged to him.

At first the task was not so difficult for in 1935 there were not nearly so many cars on the highway as there are today — and trucks had not yet reached the freight car proportions they have attained in 1951. And there were no "hot rod" drivers at large to scare the living daylights out of safe and sane drivers with their highway acrobatics.

"But travel was heavy and, as World War II started, bus travel, like all other forms of inter-city travel grew by leaps and bounds. It was impossible to obtain new and larger motor coaches because of military demands for material and a 33-passenger vehicle was considered large enough to care for the traffic. They had to be large enough because larger ones, which were to come in later years, could not be bought during those years of conflict.

"Regardless of the size of the vehicle, though, it was necessary that passengers be taken aboard, even if standing room was all that was available. So frequently, during the war years, 'Pee Wee' would have 55 to 60 passengers in his vehicle made to hold a mere 33. Frequently, too, some of the passengers had been sipping too generously from the cup that cheers, thus adding to the operator's worries. But 'Pee Wee' took it all in stride.

"Came the end of the war and newer and roomier vehicles were placed on the runs — and highway traffic increased by leaps and bounds as new pleasure cars could be had and used cars, in varying degrees of roadability, were being offered for sale on almost every street corner. Still 'Pee Wee' just kept right on pushing his bus over the roads every day and managed to avoid a reportable accident.

"In 1946 when he had been operating a Missouri Pacific bus for 11 years and more than three-quarters of a million miles, the company rewarded him for his splendid record. He and Mr. Hammonds received an all-expense trip to the lower Rio Grande Valley — a day for each of his years of service over and above his usual two weeks of vacation. They traveled in style, as passengers on the best Missouri Pacific trains of the day, and had a memorable trip as a reward for his service.

"This year Mr. Hammonds has received a "sixteen year" pin which is a gold affair set with two diamonds and which attests to all his passengers that he has attained an outstanding record for safe operation of his coach. He also will receive 16 days vacation with pay in addition to the usual vacation period. What he and Mrs. Hammonds will do on their holiday has not yet been decided.

"During most of his 16 years of operating a Missouri Pacific motor coach, Mr. Hammonds has protected various runs out of Monroe. For a number of years he was on a regular assignment between Monroe and Natchez and took many passengers to the famed Garden Pilgrimage which have made the name Natchez a familiar one among the lovers of natural beauty all over the world."

MCLEMORE OPENS HEADQUARTERS

The James McLemore campaign, having reaped enthusiastic support in Shreveport and surrounding parishes last week, moved into the northeast Louisiana area this week end with the formal opening of the McLemore headquarters at 402 Louisville avenue, next door to Louisville Drug.

The headquarters will be for the Fifth District, covering 14 parishes. McLemore, the Alexandria cattleman whom Gov. Earl Long once called the best man in the governor's race, spent Saturday in the Fourth District below Shreveport.

He visited the following towns in that area: Stonewall, Gloster, Keatchie, Longstreet, Logansport, Grand Cane, Kingston, Frierson, Gayles, Robson, Lucas, and Forbing.

The independent candidate addressed groups in Logansport, Frierson, and Grand Cane from a sound truck. He returned to Shreveport late yesterday and will meet with parish officials there today.

The headquarters on Louisville is replete with signs and literature on the candidate. Unique among the campaign material are the small cards with his picture and plate form on it, to which is attached a miniature shovel with the initial 'M' on the spade. Accompanying the shovel at the headquarters is the bejeweled dig for McLemore.

ST. MATTHEW'S PLANS PARTY

New Fashioned 'Box' Affair Set For Gymnasium
Sunday Night

The St. Matthew's Social Club is anticipating a gala time this Sunday evening when members gather in the school gymnasium for a "new-fangled" box party. The Reverend Harlow Sheldon, assistant at St. Matthew's Church, and director of the teenagers, announced there would be fine entertainment and recreation for all. Each member is expected to present his card for admission and members are to come with dates.

The Rt. Rev. J. C. Marsh, pastor and director of the school was tendered a feast and birthday program on Tuesday last, in the auditorium. Following the presentation of numbers offered by the different departments, the monsignor announced a half holiday for the school.

The Matthian staff of the school's yearbook sponsored a skate and dance party on the evening of November 21 on the school yard fronting Jackson street. This event proved both a social and a financial success. The staff raised another good sum to add to their publication fund. With the required quota just about raised, the editor, Miss Rosina Lisotta, and her group will soon launch into the actual work involved in the compilation of a yearbook.

The Red Cross Club of St. Matthew's has been busy this past week with its pecan drive for the Veterans' Hospital guests. According to reports there has been some significant success here.

December 11 will be grade school night at St. Matthew's. On that occasion the elementary department will stage their annual Christmas Pageant. The preparation and work of this program is under the leadership of Sister Fidelis. The public is invited to come to the performance.

Soldiers at St. Matthew's will observe the annual traditional triduum of prayer in honor of the Immaculate Conception of the Mother of God on December 7, 8, and 9, offering this three-day program of prayer for the intentions of His Holiness, Pope Plus XII. Reception of candidates to the Sodality will take place on Dec. 8 after the 8 o'clock mass. A communion breakfast will follow the mass.

disappointment and frustration if the enemy denies us that Christmas."

Salt Lake City (Utah) Tribune (Ind.): "The Communists' losses have been so heavy they can hardly hope to alter the situation to their advantage. . . . It seems unfortunate, however, that official spokesmen and correspondents have led the progress step up with an 'armistice by Christmas' prediction or expression of hope . . . Agreement on the demarcation line clears an important hurdle, but tough obstacles remain, notably means of enforcing the armistice and arrangements relating to exchange of prisoners of war . . . It would be a mistake to expect an armistice soon."

Nashville (Tenn.) Tennessean (Dem.): "General Vandenberg is not speaking idly when he hints that prolongation of the fighting will bring a sudden change in the United Nations' air policy . . . in which the United Nations will cease to respect the present barrier of the Yalu river . . . The time is coming, as the enemy must realize, when there will have to be a decision, one way or another. If the Reds really want to negotiate an understanding, a month should be sufficient for agreement on the remaining three points of the agenda . . . Request for another respite . . . would be an affront as well as a bitter disappointment."

in selecting the candidates for the silver beaver. A local committee made nominations for these awards which were approved by the national Boy Scout committee on distinguished service awards.

Scouts of the council always look forward each year to the presentation of the silver beaver. Those who received the award last year were: John Browne, Monroe, and Floyd Main, Winnfield.

Approximately three hundred scouts and their ladies are expected to attend the annual appreciation banquet which will also feature recognition of leaders by Lloyd Love, of Ferriday; training and veteran awards, by Frank Voelker, Jr., Lake Providence; round-up awards, by A. J. Ensminger, Wissner; Eagle scout recognition by W. H. Cameron, Winnfield; and other features of interest to the scouts attending.

The council's annual business meeting will precede the banquet and will be held at 5:00 p. m. at the Hotel Virginia. During this business meeting, council officers for 1952 will be elected and other routine business affairs discussed. A large group of men from the executive board and representatives from boarding institutions will attend this session.

Over 1,000,000 Miles Without Road Accident

Logging a total of 1,029,952 miles along highways in his Missouri Pacific coach between Monroe and Natchez in 16 years time, and all with a single accident is the brilliant record of Ernest M. Hammonds, known from his size as "Pee Wee" by his fellow drivers, who banter him and he enjoys it.

Hammonds who lives at 2005

alities" he is given a writeup re-splendent with his picture.

The magazine article states in part as follows:

"He has driven in good weather and bad, day in and day out over roads sometimes good and sometimes not so good. But day in and day out, regardless of the state of the weather or the condition of the roads over which he had to travel, 'Pee Wee' Hammonds has started out from Monroe at the wheel of a Missouri Pacific bus — and has returned to his home base, always without having a reportable accident charged to him.

At first the task was not so difficult for in 1935 there were not nearly so many cars on the highway as there are today — and trucks had not yet reached the freight car proportions they have attained in 1951. And there were no "hot rod" drivers at large to scare the living daylights out of safe and sane drivers with their highway acrobatics.

"But travel was heavy and, as World War II started, bus travel, like all other forms of inter-city travel grew by leaps and bounds. It was impossible to obtain new and larger motor coaches because of military demands for material and a 33-passenger vehicle was considered large enough to care for the traffic. They had to be large enough because larger ones, which were to come in later years, could not be bought during those years of conflict.

"Regardless of the size of the vehicle, though, it was necessary that passengers be taken aboard, even if standing room was all that was available. So frequently, during the war years, 'Pee Wee' would have 55 to 60 passengers in his vehicle made to hold a mere 33. Frequently, too, some of the passengers had been sipping too generously from the cup that cheers, thus adding to the operator's worries. But 'Pee Wee' took it all in stride.

"Came the end of the war and newer and roomier vehicles were placed on the runs — and highway traffic increased by leaps and bounds as new pleasure cars could be had and used cars, in varying degrees of roadability, were being offered for sale on almost every street corner. Still 'Pee Wee' just kept right on pushing his bus over the roads every day and managed to avoid a reportable accident.

"In 1946 when he had been operating a Missouri Pacific bus for 11 years and more than three-quarters of a million miles, the company rewarded him for his splendid record. He and Mr. Hammonds received an all-expense trip to the lower Rio Grande Valley — day for each of his years of service over and above his usual two weeks of vacation. They traveled in style, as passengers on the best Missouri Pacific trains of the day, and had a memorable trip as a reward for his service.

"This year Mr. Hammonds has received a "sixteen year" pin, which is a gold affair set with two diamonds and which attests to all his passengers that he has attained an outstanding record for safe operation of his coach. He also will receive 16 days vacation with pay in addition to the usual vacation period. What he and Mrs. Hammonds will do on their holiday has not yet been decided.

"During most of his 16 years of operating a Missouri Pacific motor coach, Mr. Hammonds has protected various runs out of Monroe. For a number of years he was on a regular assignment between Monroe and Natchez and took many passengers to the famed Garden Pilgrimage which have made the name Natchez a familiar one among the lovers of natural beauty all over the world."

MCLEMORE OPENS HEADQUARTERS

The James McLemore campaign, having reaped enthusiastic support in Shreveport and surrounding parishes last week, moved into the northeast Louisiana area this weekend with the formal opening of the McLemore headquarters at 402 Louisville avenue, next door to Louisville Drug.

The headquarters will be for the Fifth District, covering 14 parishes.

McLemore, the Alexandria cattleman whom Gov. Earl Long once called the best man in the governor's race, spent Saturday in the Fourth District below Shreveport.

He visited the following towns in that area: Stonewall, Gloster, Keatchie, Longstreet, Logansport, Grand Cane, Kingfisher, Frierson, Gayles, Robson, and Forbing.

The independent candidate addressed groups in Logansport, Frierson, and Grand Cane from a sound truck. He returned to Shreveport late yesterday and will meet with parish officials there today.

The headquarters on Louisville is replete with signs and literature on the candidate. Unique among the campaign material are the small cards with his picture and platform on it, to which is attached a miniature shovel with the initial 'M' on the spade. Accompanying the shovel at the headquarters is the beseachment: dig for McLemore.

ST. MATTHEW'S PLANS PARTY

New Fashioned 'Box' Affair Set For Gymnasium Sunday Night

The St. Matthew's Social Club is anticipating a gala time this Sunday evening when members gather in the school gymnasium for a genuine "new-fashioned" box party. The Reverend Harlow Sheldon, assistant at St. Matthew's Church, and director of the teenagers, announced there would be fine entertainment and recreation for all. Each member is expected to present his card for admission and members are to come with dates.

The Rt. Rev. J. C. Marsh, pastor and director of the school was tendered a feast and birthday program on Tuesday last, in the auditorium. Following the presentation of numbers offered by the different departments, the monsignor announced a half holiday for the school.

The Matthian staff of the school's yearbook sponsored a skate and dance party on the evening of November 21 on the school yard fronting Jackson street. This event proved both a social and a financial success. The staff raised another good sum to add to their publication fund. With the required quota just about raised, the editor, Miss Rosina Lisotta, and her group will soon launch into the actual work involved in the compilation of a yearbook.

The Red Cross Club of St. Matthew's has been busy this past week with its pecan drive for the Veterans' Hospital guests. According to reports there has been some significant success here.

December 17 will be grade school night at St. Matthew's. On that occasion the elementary department will stage their annual Christmas Pageant. The preparation and work of this program is under the leadership of Sister Fidelis. The public is invited to come to the performance.

Sodalists at St. Matthew's will observe the annual traditional triadum of prayer in honor of the Immaculate Conception of the Mother of God on December 7, 8, and 9, offering this three-day program of prayer for the intentions of His Holiness, Pope Plus XII. Reception of candidates to the Sodalists will take place on Dec. 8 after the 8 o'clock mass. A Communion breakfast will follow the mass.

What Others Say EDITORS' ROUNDTABLE

is far from a mission accomplished. At long last however, it has made significant progress.

New York Daily News (Ind.): "In the Chinese civil war it was standard Chinese Red practice, says Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer, to sue for a truce whenever the Communists were hard pressed. That always followed long negotiations, during which the Reds simply built up their strength for another onslaught . . . Will the Reds use the same strategy in Korea? . . . The build-up of Red air power in Manchuria, as reported by General Vandenberg, would seem to be evidence that this just what the Reds intend."

Denton (Ohio) Daily News (Ind.-Dem.): "If our troops continue to move forward, the enemy will be under some pressure to conclude the negotiations within the 30-day period and thus restore the present front as the ultimate true line. Also he may take account of hints that we may reconsider the question of whether or not to bomb his aerial build-up bases behind the Yalu river. But there is no assurance whatever that he will prove tractable. We can hope for a Christmas with guns stilled; but we must be prepared to rise above disappointment and frustration if the enemy denies us that Christmas."

Salt Lake City (Utah) Tribune (Ind.): "The Communists' losses have been so heavy they can hardly hope to alter the situation to their advantage. . . It seems unfortunate, however, that official spokesmen and correspondents have tied the progress step up with an 'armistice by Christmas' prediction on the demarcation line clears an important hurdle, but tough obstacles remain, notably means of enforcing the armistice and arrangements relating to exchange of prisoners of war . . . It would be a mistake to expect an armistice soon."

Nashville (Tenn.) Tennessean (Dem.): "General Vandenberg is not speaking idly when he hints that prolongation of the fighting will bring a sudden change in the United Nations air policy . . . in which the United Nations will cease to respect the present barrier of the Yalu river . . . The time is coming, as the enemy must realize, when there will have to be a decision, one way or another. If the Reds really want to negotiate an understanding, a month should be sufficient for agreement on the remaining three points of the agenda . . . Request for another respite . . . would be an affront as well as a bitter disappointment."

Youths Here Honored By D. A. Titles

Don Cathey, 13, and David Lyons, 14, Arcadia youths, were made honorary district attorneys yesterday morning by Gilbert Brown, assistant district attorney for Ouachita parish. They are the first in the state to be so honored.

In cooperation with the National Junior Chamber of Commerce and the "Mr. District Attorney" radio program, local law enforcement officers and the Twin City Jaycees submitted the names of the two teenagers after they had actively aided in the apprehension of a man who was later convicted of theft of an automobile in Monroe.

Presented with cards and certificates making them members in the "Honorary Mr. District Attorney Club of America," the youngsters were afterwards taken on a tour of parish and city law offices and jails by Sheriff Bailey Grant and Monroe Chief of Police M. L. Peters. They were later taken around the city in a traffic department patrol automobile and given detailed accounts of the duties and responsibilities of city police.

After a banquet Saturday, at which the two youthful D. A.'s were guests of the Jaycees, a tape recording of an interview with the youngsters was made. This will be presented Tuesday night at 8:30 p.m. over Radio Station KMLB.

Brown said the names and deeds of the youngsters will be forwarded to the national District Attorney program for recognition, which is expected sometime after the first of next year. He said Cathey and Lyons were largely responsible for the apprehension of Jessie James McKinney, 20, on August 18 of last year.

The two youths, while playing, noticed McKinney taking salesmen's cases from an automobile which apparently was parked off the road. While one followed McKinney, the other contacted the town marshal, Will Storey, who in turn notified the sheriff department. When arrested, McKinney admitted stealing the automobile, a 1948 Ford Sedan belonging to the Monroe Furniture Company, in Monroe and driving to Arcadia where the vehicle stalled.

Deputies from the Ouachita parish sheriff department returned McKinney to Monroe and on Nov. 10 of last year he was sentenced in the Fourth District Court to 18 months according to law.

On hand for the "swearing in" activities of the Mr. D. A.'s were Sheriff Bailey Grant, Chief of Police M. L. Peters, and David Russell and Charles R. Colter, representing the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

PUBLIC FORUM

To the Editor: The contents of this letter may appear to the careless and unconcerned, to be fantastic and dreamy, but in fact it is not a hallucination. Louisiana is the richest state in the south in inexhaustable resources of various kinds; that has not yet been utilized. Which if developed would bring countless billions of dollars to Louisiana that could never reach here through any other sources.

Those resources can not be developed and commercialized without the cooperation of industrialists who will, if given proper inducement and guarantees, establish factories and processing plants throughout the state, and bring those idle resources into active progress. To introduce and magnify the vital importance of them all in this article would require too much space, but I am going to introduce two of the most important ones to develop agriculture and livestock.

First, the establishment of three large packing houses, one in Monroe, one in Alexandria, and one in Shreveport, similar to the one in Hazelhurst. From those canneries, rural routes will be established to a radius of fifty to one hundred miles in every direction, and reaching every farm home within this area. Trucks will transit each of those routes every day, and pick up anything the farmers may have, from eggs, milk, butter, chickens to all sorts of garden vegetables and give them a receipt, each day for whatever they may have, then bring them a check on Saturday for the week's receipts; thus establishing a ready market at the front gate of every farm home in the country, for every thing we can produce on the farm, as well as hogs and cattle.

Someone may ask who will finance and build those establishments? If given the proper exemptions and guarantees, Swift, Armour or most any other large packing corporation, are ready to expand to any place where it is advantageous.

Second: The establishment of three cotton spindle mills, one in Bastrop or Monroe, one in Shreveport, and one in Alexandria. The establishment of those six industries in north Louisiana would more than treble agricultural, dairy, and livestock interests. All that is lacking to bring those enterprises into existence is the leadership of a competent and experienced business executive in Baton Rouge.

Yours truly,
B. W. Morgan,
Rt. 3,
Bastrop, La.

EXCHANGE CLUB IN SAFETY TALK

Captain Jack Davis And Officer Whitlow Are Speakers

In a recent address to the Exchange Club, delivered by Captain Jack Davis and George Whitlow of the Monroe police department, special emphasis was placed upon three safety "musts" in highway traveling which are: Be wise, think, and observe all traffic signs.

Captain Davis pointed out instances of traffic problems in past decades when the average speed of automobiles was three miles per hour as compared to present traffic situations where an average speed of 60 miles an hour is involved.

"All accidents are caused because some safety regulation has been 'broken,'" explained the captain.

Cautioning drivers in this vicinity, the captain stated that there are now 3,306,000 miles of road in the United States with some 48,000,000 cars traveling over these highways, and in Monroe, there are 14,000 vehicles on the streets each day, making it expedient that every driver be most careful, paying special heed to speed regulations and observing stop signs and traffic lights.

Captain Davis related a story which occurred some time ago on the old bridge, at which time traffic was stopped, cars were lined up, and two women who were holding up traffic to measure and calculate if passage was possible without scratching each other's fender.

The captain pointed out further that parking of cars was another traffic problem because people do not know how to park properly.

At this point, George Whitlow began the second phase of traffic precautions.

He stated that so far this year, 980 accidents, with 157 injuries and five deaths, had occurred on Monroe highways, pointing out that with Christmas approaching, more cars and pedestrians will be on the streets, and that it is even more important motorists drive carefully.

The accident list in Monroe is approximately five daily, and at that rate, he explained, Monroe will have 1,000 accidents at the end of the year.

Whitlow further pointed out that this figure is astonishing in comparison with other cities of equal size.

The city of Monroe has only four motorcycle policemen to tour the city and the whole-hearted cooperation of the citizens is asked so that accident rates will be kept at a minimum.

Curtain Call Little Theatre

see the wonderful color movies that Alex Winn made at last year's party. He is planning a repeat on the movies this year. Speaking of Monroe Day reminds me, Clyde L. Pohl who played Santa Claus for the Vets last year is another repeat performer. My hat's off to him, cause I know he turned down a big W. O. W. blowout in New Orleans in order to play this role. The Jaycees' that live wire organization that we hear so much about, is serving as the local organization to promote the blood for defense program. The Bloodmobile will come over from Jackson and the Jaycees' will line up the donors. Look for big news on this soon for the drive will start in January. Ever alert Howard Griffin, who never misses a chance for a "subtle" plug, has made arrangements to parade the Hollywood stars in the Gold seat - Delta Theatre Kiddie Show, which has grown from about 150 attendance to more than 500 regulars, will hold its Saturday morning, December 15, show for the benefit of The Goodfellows.

LITTLE THEATRE SKETCH

BARBARA ADDISON. Who will make her Little Theatre debut in next week's attraction "All My Sons," was born in Amite, way down in Tangipahoa parish. She graduated from high school in McComb, Miss., and attended Southeastern Louisiana College in Hammond.

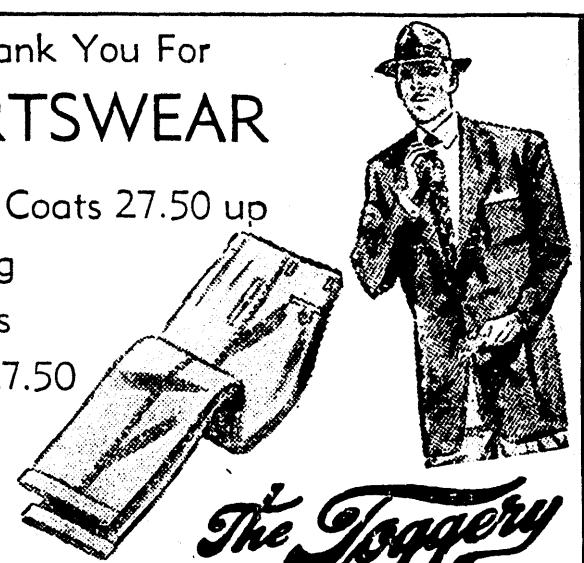

Barbara is a graduate of Chilton Business College, Chilton, Mo. For five years she was associated with Cottrell and Edison general agents in Houston, Tex. And though it seems a long way from Missouri to Texas and then to Monroe, however Barbara became a Monroian last July because her sister, Mrs. J. F. "Johnny" Jackson, lives here.

She is secretary to J. L. Harper, acting manager of Louisville Cooperage. She is also a member of the Episcopal Church and says her hobby is meeting interesting people. Although this is her first time to do any acting, to her went the role of Mrs. Jim Bayles, the doctor's wife, in "All My Sons".

EXCHANGE CLUB IN SAFETY TALK

Captain Jack Davis And Officer Whitlow Are Speakers

In a recent address to the Exchange Club, delivered by Captain Jack Davis and George Whitlow of the Monroe police department, special emphasis was placed upon three safety "musts" in highway traveling which are: Be wise, think, and observe all traffic signs.

Captain Davis pointed out instances of traffic problems in past decades when the average speed of automobiles was three miles per hour as compared to present traffic situations where an average speed of 60 miles an hour is involved.

"All accidents are caused because some safety regulation has been broken," explained the captain.

Cautioning drivers in this vicinity, the captain stated that there are now 3,306,000 miles of road in the United States with some 48,000,000 cars traveling over these highways, and in Monroe, there are 14,000 vehicles on the streets each day, making it expedient that every driver be most careful, paying special heed to speed regulations and observing stop signs and traffic lights.

Captain Davis related a story which occurred some time ago on the old bridge, at which time traffic was stopped, cars were lined up, and two women who were holding up traffic to measure and calculate if passage was possible without scratching each other's fender.

The captain pointed out further that parking of cars was another traffic problem because people do not know how to park properly.

At this point, George Whitlow began the second phase of traffic precautions.

He stated that so far this year, 980 accidents, with 157 injuries and five deaths, had occurred on Monroe highways, pointing out that with Christmas approaching, more cars and pedestrians will be on the streets, and that it is even more important motorists drive carefully.

The accident list in Monroe is approximately five daily, and at that rate, he explained, Monroe will have 1,000 accidents at the end of the year.

Whitlow further pointed out that this figure is astonishing in comparison with other cities of equal size.

The city of Monroe has only four motorcycle policemen to tour the city and the whole-hearted cooperation of the citizens is asked so that accident rates will be kept at a minimum.

VOLS, JACKETS DOMINATE ALL-S. E. C. SQUAD

LOOP'S LEADERS WITH TEN PLACES ON 2 PLATOONS

George Tarasovic, L. S. U., Best Defensive Center

Atlanta, Dec. 1.—The Tennessee Vols who lived up to their reputation as the nation's finest football team, and the Georgia Tech Yellow Jackets, a bunch of sassy upstarts who astonished their friends and foes with a magnificent season, combined today to win 10 All-Southeastern Conference positions.

Before the season the Volunteers were picked as the best team in Press poll. After 10 games the Vols are right on top where they're supposed to be. They meet Maryland in the Sugar Bowl New Year's Day.

The six men General Bob Neyland's Vols placed on the first All-S. E. C. squad are the six main reasons for Tennessee's success. First string All-S. E. C. Vols are: Offensive Back Hank Lauricella; defensive Guard John Michels; defensive End Doug Atkins; defensive Guard Ted Daffer; defensive Tackles Pug Pearman, and defensive Back Bert Rechichar.

Georgia Tech, sixth ranked team in the nation, started the season with the ranking of a so-so team playing a rugged schedule. Instead of losing three or four games Bobby Dodd's Jackets whipped seven of the better teams in football. They suffered badly in a 14-14 tie with Duke. Tech will play in the Orange Bowl.

Four Jackets who placed on first offensive and defensive teams are: Jay Beck, defensive guard; Lamar Wheat, defensive tackle; Darrell Crawford, quarterback, and Lum Shuler, offensive tackle.

The 1941 teams are the first two-platoon teams picked by the Associated Press. AP selections annually are the only ones which become a part of official Southeastern records.

Kentucky tied Georgia Tech in the number of men on the first team but, with the exception of Quarterback Vito Parilli, the Wildcats did not carry as much support for man as the Yellow Jackets.

Along with Parilli, Kentuckians making the first team were all offensive men. They were: Center Doug Moseley, Guard Gene Donaldson, and End Steve Meilinger.

Vanderbilt and Georgia each placed two men on the first two platoons and L. S. U., Alabama, Mississippi and Mississippi State placed one each.

Florida failed to place a man on the first team but scored with four on the second squad.

The six players from Tech and Georgia are the first men from either Georgia college to make the first team in three years.

Hank Lauricella won 293 votes, most for any player, and thereby becomes captain of the team. Parilli was second with 242 and Georgia's great offensive end, Harry Babcock, was third with 210. The closest contest for any position was at defensive tackle between Tennessee's Pearman, Tech's Wheat and Florida's Charles La-prada.

Texas Christian Takes Conference Title, Defeats Southern Methodist

T. C. U. Wins Southwest Championship, Cotton Bowl Bid

By Harold V. Ratliff

Fort Worth, Tex., Dec. 1.—(AP)—Texas Christian's crushing line, a stray elbow and Ray McKown, Gil Bartosh and Bobby Jack Floyd combined today to bring a 13-2 victory over Southern Methodist and the Southwest conference football champions.

The title — Texas Christian's first since 1944 — put the Horned Frogs into the Cotton Bowl as host team.

It was a wild and furious finale of a bizarre season in which the conference title was in doubt until the last game.

At Houston today Baylor beat Rice and if Texas Christian had failed to fell SMU, Baylor would have taken the championship.

The passing of McKown, that sophomore, set up the first Texas Christian touchdown and the throwing of Bartosh had the same for the other. Floyd's line — cracking runs proved the margin in between.

Southern Methodist was behind 6-2 in the third period when Fred Banners, who tied the Southwest conference passing record with 16 completions — making his 110 for the season — pitched a pass to Benton Musselwhite that gained 63 yards and an apparent touchdown. But an SMU player was ruled to have used an elbow too vigorously so the score was nullified and the ball brought back.

The Methodists never could threaten again and the Frogs, as the result of the efforts of that slashing guard, Herb Zimmerman, racked up another touchdown. TCU also was on the SMU three-yard line on another scoring drive as the game ended.

Zimmerman it was who lunged himself into the air and knocked the ball out of Banners' hands as the SMU star attempted to pass. Morgan Williams, burly Christian tackle, fell on the ball on the SMU 40. With Bartosh running and passing the Frogs pushed to the clinching touchdown. It was made on a six-yard run by John Harville.

The second player vote was taken yesterday, and all 43 men were in favor of the Pineapple Bowl bid in Honolulu.

Last night's athletic council announcement formally ended the Redskin season with a record of seven wins and four losses.

one from where Floyd batted over. Flowers missed the extra point.

A 22-mile per hour south wind handicapped the punters, especially TCU, but it helped SMU keep the Christians bottled up in their end of the field in the second period when the SMU safety came.

Utah Utes Turn Down Bid For Pineapple Bowl Game

Salt Lake City, Dec. 1.—(AP)—The University of Utah Athletic Council last night announced that the Ute football team will not play in the Pineapple Bowl after all.

The athletic council unanimously voted to overrule a second vote by the team, taken Thursday.

The Skyline Conference champs on Monday had voted against the trip 22-21, and also voted to spurn an offer to play in the Sun Bowl in El Paso, Tex.

Northeast Quint Opening Season Here Thursday Night Against Delta State

Phillips Will Fire All-Frosh Combine At Invaders

Basketball, as a major sport, returns to Northeast Louisiana State College when Cary Phillips, new Indian cage mentor, sends his Redskins against the Statesmen of Delta State Teachers College of Cleveland, Miss., here Thursday night at 8 o'clock in the Northeast gymnasium.

Phillips, a West Monroe druggist with a yen for basketball that dates back several years as an all-American high school player for Hattiesburg, Miss., a great star at Ole Miss., and a player coach of the old Brown Paper Mill Safety Fists of N.A.A.U. fame, is planning to go with an all-freshmen squad representing the cream of Louisiana high school talent of a year ago.

The Indian freshmen are already looking mighty impressive in workouts, and the fact that they will be around for four years will be a great difference where he started.

Phillips isn't promising a world beater this year, but he has promised the Indians "are going to surprise a lot of people even if we do lose some games."

The probable Northeast lineup for Thursday hasn't been announced, but all indications are that the choice is narrowed to half a dozen performers — James Shively, Robert Bennett, Arlan Adams, Jo Harrell, Bob Carter, and Glen Robinson. Also contending for places and due to see plenty service are Robert Williams, Raydell Smith, Tom Herrin, Robert Cole, James Cunningham, F. Cerneglia and S. Cernevela.

Shively, Adams, Robinson, and Williams were all-state high school players last year. Shively, six-foot-one, comes to the Tribe along with Coach Arnold Kilpatrick, Phillips' chief assistant, from Jonesboro — Hodge where Kilpatrick's team won the state Class A championship last spring. Adams and Williams were all-state players on Ogden's Class B outfit, and Robinson made all-state two straight years at Friendship.

Coach John Ray Ricks' Statesmen opened their schedule last night against Arkansas A. and M. with four lettermen back in their lineup. They'll play Union University of Tennessee Tuesday before coming here Thursday.

Lettermen back at Delta State to test the skill of the Tribe are Clyde "Whizzer" Muse, six-foot-two senior forward; Charles Taylor, six-foot-two sophomore guard; William Box, six-foot-two sophomore forward; and Fred Foster, five-foot-tall junior guard. One other sophomore, Jimmy Taylor, six-foot-two, sophomore guard, is also back in quest of a letter this year.

L. S. U. EDGES TULANE IN HARD-FOUGHT BATTLE

GREENIES FALL BEFORE BENGAL ATTACKS, 14-13

Tulane Misses Game-Winning Field Goal In Fourth

By Warren Rogers, Jr. Baton Rouge, La., Dec. 1.—A squeezed past Tulane 14-13 today in a rip-snorting football game that had 46,000 fans in a frenzy down to the last split second.

At the outset, L. S. U. was as hot as Louisiana pepper sauce, but Tulane's Green Wave, after a ripply start, began to cool some of the Tigers' fury.

Fumbles and penalties spelled much of the difference for the Greenies. They put up one of the stubbornest battles ever witnessed in this 49th game of the series—one of the hottest grid rivalries in the south.

The first period looked like a run-away for L. S. U., but the fourth quarter looked like a runaway for Tulane.

L. S. U. freshman Charlie Oakley, who played a brilliant game, got the first L. S. U. touchdown. Senior Lee Hedges got the other. Both touchdowns were on short punches at the goal line. Frost Cliff Stringfield kicked both of L. S. U.'s extra points.

For Tulane, Max McGee plunged one yard for the first touchdown and Roy Bailey bucked one yard for the other—after it was set up by a 57-yard pass, Les Kennedy to Ray Weidenbacher, Tom Comeaux place-kicked one conversion and missed the other.

Late in the final quarter Comeaux tried field goal from the L. S. U. 21-yard line and missed. That was the ball game.

The game was loaded with thrills. There were three of them. Trailing by a touchdown, Tulane's Kennedy made it fast, leaped back and flung one more than 60 yards. Weidenbacher tucked in on the L. S. U. one and was dropped cold. Next play, a touchdown.

When Kennedy got hurt, freshman Pete Clement took over. From pass formation he flitted 47 yards and but for a determined L. S. U. stand the Greenies would have scored. Comeaux tried a field goal then, but it was wide.

L. S. U. partial to field goals because of Stringfield's talented toe, got set up for a try with Jim Barton holding. But Barton foiled them. He ran like a hopped-up rabbit to within striking distance and, later Oakley went over.

It was L. S. U.'s 26th victory over Tulane, which has won 18. Five games were tied. This was the final game of the year for both teams.

It also was the third game this year in which Stringfield's foot came through. The Bolagusa老人 kicked L. S. U. to a 7-6 victory over Rice Institute and a 3-0 defeat of Mississippi State.

Tulane's most effective offensive weapon was Fred Dempsey's passing, especially to End. W. C. McElhannon. L. S. U.'s secondary just couldn't cope with them. In one series especially, it kept the ball rolling, clicking for 13, 12 and 10 yards when it counted.

For L. S. U., it was Leroy Labat again. The "Black Stallion of the Bayous", with Tackle Moose Potter helping to clear the way, was humiliating Army defeat in the 62-year-old service football rivalry.

It also was a good day for two L. S. U. backs who have been out of action lately. Hedges, ailing all season, turned in a splendid running game. Quarterback Norm Stevens, with slick ball handling and sharp passing, regained some of his old form.

NAVY MASSACRES CADETS, 42 TO 7

Army Takes Worst Shelling Of 62 Games With Tars

Philadelphia, Dec. 1.—(AP) A quick opening break and a 101-yard touchdown run by Plebe John Raster lit a fuse under the slumbering Navy football plant today and sent it stampeding over Army's rag-tag forces for a 42 to 7 victory. It was the most humiliating Army defeat in the 62-year-old service football rivalry.

A crowd of 99,000, enough to populate a good-sized city, sat in awe in Municipal Stadium's huge horseshoe as the battered Middies, a big, bungling team that had won only one of its eight previous games this year, poured it on their cripshattered enemy without mercy.

The worst previous Army shelling at the hands of the Midshipmen was 24-0 in 1950, when this colorful spectacle was launched.

Raster, a lean 19-year-old fledgling from Toledo, Ohio, provided the most sensational play on this balmy afternoon when he intercepted a Fred Meyers pass in his own end zone and burst up the sidelines like a rifle shot.

Army's warriors, who had been knocking at touchdown door just this swift turn took place, just stood and watched in surprise as the 170-pound defensive back streaked the length of the field for Navy's third score of the first period.

The other chief executioners were Mike Sorrentino, a ball-handling Houdini from Sharon Hills, Pa., and Vic Vine, a slashing runner from Garrettsville, Ohio.

They engineered the other three Navy touchdowns in the first half which followed successively a flubbed opening kickoff, a fumble and a short kick by the Cadets. Sorrentino threw for two of the scores—a 15-yard pass to Frank Brady in the opening period and an 11-yarder to Dean Smith in the fourth.

Jack Perkins and Vine plunged over from the one for two others while the final came in the fading minutes—as if adding insult to injury—when Don Fischer recovered a fumble by Meyers in the Army end zone.

Tennessee Wards Off Upset Threat, Barely Whips Commodores, 35 To 27

Bill Wade Passes Almost Spoil Season For Vols

By Oscar Thompson Knoxville, Tenn., Dec. 1.—(AP) A fighting Vanderbilt football team, fired to great heights by the sensational passing of Quarterback Bill Wade, gave mighty Tennessee a real scare today before bowing, 35 to 27.

A wildly screaming crowd of 45,000 homecoming fans shouted itself hoarse as Wade riddled unbroken Tennessee's secondary with passes and almost pulled off the biggest upset of the season.

The bitterly-fought game ended in a free-for-all which was quickly brought under control by officials, coaches and police.

The hard-won victory was the 10th straight of the season for the Sugar Bowl-bound Volunteers and marked their first unbeaten and untied season since 1940. It was their 20th consecutive win over a two-year period.

Wade completed 16 or 14 bullet-like passes for 251 yards and no interceptions. He failed to score directly through the air, but his tosses set the stage for each of the Commodores' four touchdowns.

Tennessee completely dominated the first half and left the field for the intermission with a 14-0 lead. The Vols struck quickly for a third touchdown in the first minute of the third quarter.

Guard Ted Daffer crashed through and blocked halfback Dick Foster's punt on Vandy's eighth and big Doug Atkins scooped up the ball and raced six yards for a touchdown. Capt. Bert Rechichar added his third straight conversion.

But the complexion of the game changed quickly as Tennessee kicked off to Vandy. Wade, who had failed to maneuver the Commodores past midfield in the first half, started hitting with his passes.

Vanderbilt marched 71 yards in 10 plays, Wade covering 52 of the net with four completed passes. Fullback R. C. Allen plunged from the one after Wade had nailed End Ben Roderick, his favorite target

Guard Ted Daffer crashed through and blocked halfback Dick Foster's punt on Vandy's eighth and big Doug Atkins scooped up the ball and raced six yards for a touchdown. Capt. Bert Rechichar added his third straight conversion.

Wade rose to the occasion again midway the fourth period, hitting Roderick with three passes and Foster with one to work the ball from Vandy's 38 to Tennessee's 4. Allen plunged over for his second touchdown. Foster converted.

Tennessee's final score came in the last five seconds. Fullback Andy Kozar bulled over from the two.

Bill Wade Passes Almost Spoil Season For Vols With Tars

Knoxville, Tenn., Dec. 1.—A quick opening break and a 101-yard touchdown run by Plebe John Raster lit a fuse under the slumbering Navy football giant today and sent it stampeding over Army's rag-tag forces for a 42 to 7 victory. It was the most humiliating Army defeat in the 62-year-old service football rivalry.

Tennessee, top-ranked nationally in the Associated Press poll, marched 71 yards for its fourth and game-winning touchdown. Hal Payne, who had scampered 17 yards for Tennessee's second touchdown in the second period, smashed over from the one. End Vic Kolenik kicked the first of two.

ALABAMA SLAMS AUBURN, 25 TO 6

Bobby Marlow Puts On

Brilliant Performance

In Game

Birmingham, Ala., Dec. 1.—(Bobby

A terrific performance by Bobby Marlow led Alabama to a 25-7 win over the outmanned Auburn Tigers today.

Marlow smashed his way for 233 yards and three touchdowns in 25 carries. The Tigers never were able to stop him.

The 195-pound halfback brought his season's scoring to 12 touchdowns with today's brilliant game as 42,000 fans looked on.

Bobby drove seven yards on the last play of the first quarter to open the scoring. In the third period he went 39 for another and ended the touchdown parade with a 22-yard run on the final play of the third.

In between, little Bimbo Melton raced three yards for the second "Bama" marker in the second period. Auburn's Fullback Homer Williams drove seven for the lone Tiger score in the third.

The Tigers threatened several times, principally on Williams' fine running, but were halted by the Bama line.

The win was Alabama's fifth against six losses, and the defeat gave Auburn a final standing of five wins and as many defeats. Auburn lost all 10 a year ago.

Aside from his three touchdowns, Marlow contributed 30 yards in two runs to set the stage for Melton's score. Marlow was used only on offense today. In previous games, he has played on both platoons serving as a line backer when the opponent had the ball.

Melton was next to Marlow in rushing, netting 109 in 18 carries. Williams netted 100 in 15. Parks and Dooley completed 11 of 21 passes for the Tigers for 121.

"Bama's" rushing yardage was 453, tops for the team this year against major opposition. Auburn netted 134 rushing.

Flood Group Tours Lower Miss. Valley

Members of the federal appropriations committee for flood control now realize the problems facing the people in this area because of a recent tour of the lower Mississippi Valley and its tributaries, Otto E. Passman, representative from the Fifth congressional District, and member of the committee said yesterday.

For the first time in the history of flood control, a majority of the members of the appropriations committee participated in the recent tour which lasted for five days and extended from Cape Girardeau, Missouri, to the mouth of the Mississippi River below New Orleans, the Morganza spillway and the Atchafalaya river basin. Heretofore, the committee has called in witnesses rather than seek the information personally.

Passman, who as a member of this committee, expressed optimism over the opinions expressed by committee members making the tour. He reported yesterday that members of the Appropriation Committee (for flood control) were tremendously impressed with what we have accomplished in the lower Mississippi valley and have assured me, upon return to their respective states, that for the first time, they understood the problems of the people in the lower Mississippi Valley because it was the first time they had had the opportunity to observe our problem first hand.

Accompanying Passman for the entire tour were Louis C. Rabbot, chairman for the Army Civil Functions appropriation subcommittee, and representatives Jerry Ford and Glen Davis, ranking Republican members of the committee. Two other members, Noel of Arkansas, and Whidden, Missouri, joined the inspection party in the Atchafalaya basin.

Passman stated that the group traveled from Cape Girardeau, Mo., on the river Steamer Mississippi to Memphis, Tenn., where they boarded an amphibious plane for an aerial inspection of all projects on the Arkansas river and Mississippi river in that area. From Greenville, Miss., to Vicksburg, they again raveled by river steamer inspecting the main levees along the banks.

In Vicksburg, where their plane was waiting, they took to the air and flew over the projects in the Tensas Basin and Red River backwaters area. Returning to the steamer Newton the committee continued down stream to Simsport where they went by jeep and horseback to inspect the laying of concrete mats in several portions of the Atchafalaya and Mississippi basins. They also inspected the Morganza spillway and other proposed river projects adjacent to the Atchafalaya spillway to Morgan City, then continued through the inter-coastal canal to New Orleans, where they attended the annual meeting of the Mississippi Valley Flood Control Association.

It was at this meeting that Passman was elected president of the organization for the coming year.

the campaign ends around December 15.

Many West Monroe firms were beginning to appear on the Honor Roll and still more of these are expected to come in as the solicitation in that city progresses.

Campaigns are underway among Monroe and Sterlington residents who are employed at Commercial Solvents Corp. and Thermatonic Carbon. Both Managers J. E. Wheeler and Clark Boardman, respectively, have endorsed the drive to residents of these affected areas.

Speakers Bureau Chairman Jack Howard announced Saturday that members of his group are filling two speaking engagements Monday: the first at 9 a. m. at The Palace Dept. Store and the second at 4:50 p. m. at the Selig Mfg. Co.

Both Jack Masur, head of the Palace and Bernard L. Vorse of the Selig firm have endorsed the campaign to their employees and offered the facilities of payroll deduction so their pledge cards may be signed now and then the amounts paid next year in simple, easy deductions.

The campaign awards committee will next week start awarding "Oscars" and "Oscarites" to outstanding volunteers in the drive. Employee groups will be honored and recognized by attractive wall cards which read: "To the Employees of (Firm Name), in recognition of their great loyalty and devotion as citizens of the Twin Cities in subscribing to the 1952 Red Feather Campaign in a manner constituting high level participation." fiscal year July 1, 1951, to June 30, 1952. Part of this will be a debt contribution, part will be U. S. defense spending in France."

Information Minister Robert Burton, who read the report to newsmen, gave it as his personal opinion that congress would have to be asked for more funds. He explained that this would be preferable to reducing the American help to other countries for the benefit of France.

In Washington, however, officials indignantly declared they would do everything they could with funds on hand rather than ask congress for a special foreign aid appropriation, and later Burton changed his mind. He issued this new statement:

"To put things straight, the American aid of $600 million mentioned by M. Mayer refers to the fiscal year, July 1, 1951 to June 30, 1952 and certain statements to the contrary notwithstanding, require no new decision by the U. S. congress."

Austerity on the British pattern has not been a threat in France. This country has no rationing and parliament would probably toss out any cabinet that tried to impose it.

The use of scarce goods is restricted by their price—gasoline costs 20 cents a gallon and steak over a dollar a pound in a country where $40 a week is good pay.

Two weeks ago Mayer went before the national assembly and said that French spending in dollar currencies would have to be slashed 40 per cent to $500 million. Coal imports would halt Jan. 1, he declared, and less newsprint, cotton, tobacco and oil products would be available.

December 8, Sonny Allen, Mrs. E. A. Turny, Mrs. A. R. Smith, Carol Jordon, E. H. Rivers, Mrs. Frank S. Simpson and Mrs. Emma Perkins.

Today, December 2 is a date of special interest to Rev. Edward F. Haydock, much beloved leader at Grace Episcopal Church for many years. Exactly 30 years ago today he came here to take charge as rector and also today marks two years since he laid down active duties and became rector emeritus. However, he frequently does this morning at the church as he is doing this morning in the early service as the rector, Rev. David A. Jones is out of the city.

One of the longest and most successful of local church careers has been enjoyed by this rector and his loyal congregation. His many friends here wish him many more years of life.

Postmaster Woodrow Hathorn once more urges early mailing of Christmas packages and cards for already he says "It's later than you think." He says most people wait until late in December and then there is a great flurry of mail and it is almost impossible to get it all delivered by Christmas day.

Each year sees an even bigger output of mail for the holidays and this year of 1951 promises to maintain the past records. Millions of pieces of mail were handled here in 1950 and no telling what it will run to this year.

If the public will cooperate in early mailing it will make it easier on postal authorities and all will be delivered in time.

Christmas packages for distant points should be mailed, it is explained by December 5 and all Yuletide parcel post should be in the mails by December 10.

Christmas cards to friends in other states ought to be mailed by December 15 and greetings that are sent locally should be in the mails at least a week before Christmas.

It is further enjoined to see that all mail is addressed plainly and completely with full name and address and also return address.

A huge bear was killed by R. M. Holmes on Friday on the Jourdon property in Tensas parish. The carcass of the big animal was brought to St. Joseph and attracted great interest. He was very fat and weighed about 600 pounds. The hide and head and feet will be made into a rug by a skilled taxidermist, it was stated by the Nimitz, who killed the big animal. He said that he believed the woods of Tensas parish and neighboring parishes are well populated with bears and pointed out that Lake Bruin has a lake called Lake Bruin because of the large population of bears in that vicinity.

The Monroe district of the Methodist Church in its observance of the Ark-La-Tex United Evangelistic Mission is exceptionally fortunate in the leadership secured for the various phases of the program.

Dr. J. Albert Gatlin, professor of rural work at Hendrix College and director of the rural life commission of the north Arkansas and Little Rock conferences of the Methodist church, was the speaker at the ministers' banquet Friday night at the First Methodist Church, Monroe. He will also be the revival speaker at First Methodist Church, West Monroe.

Dr. Henry Goodloe, district superintendent of the Fort Smith district, will be the inspirational preacher for the school of evangelism which is to be conducted each day for the ministers. He also is to be the revival speaker at First Church, Monroe. Dr. Goodloe is one of the outstanding men of Arkansas Methodism. Hendrix College, his Alma Mater awarded him the degree of Doctor of Divinity in 1946. He is a graduate of S. M. U. school of theology, Dallas, Tex. He has served many important posts in Arkansas Methodism.

Dr. Mark Vaught, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Stuttgart, Ark., will instruct the ministers daily in visitation evangelism. Dr. Vaught will also be the revival speaker at Memorial Methodist Church. A graduate of Hendrix College, Dr. Vaught also attended S. M. U. school of theology from which he was graduated in 1940. He served as a chaplain in the United States Navy for three years during the recent war.

Rev. Horace M. Lewis, pastor of the First Methodist Church at Springdale, Ark., will instruct the ministers in pulpit evangelism, and will be the revival speaker at Winnsboro. He is also a graduate of Hendrix College and S. M. U., and comes here with a record in pulpit evangelism second to none.

Mrs. Harper, native of Oxford, Miss., was a graduate of the University of Mississippi and had taught in public schools in Mississippi and elsewhere and in Monroe she had for a time conducted a private class in speech.

She and Judge Harper were married September 14, 1922.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Harper is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Oliver B. Fraizer, Mrs. Ben Marshall; Miss Billie Harper, who is a senior in Sophie Newcomb college, New Orleans; and a sister, Mrs. William S. Dixon, Ruleville, Miss.

Flood Group Tours Lower Miss. Valley

Members of the federal appropriations committee for flood control now realize the problems facing the people in this area because of a recent tour of the lower Mississippi Valley and its tributaries, Otto E. Passman, representative from the Fifth congressional District, and member of the committee said yesterday.

For the first time in the history of flood control, a majority of the members of the appropriations committee participated in the recent tour which lasted for five days and extended from Cape Girardeau, Missouri, to the mouth of the Mississippi River below New Orleans, the Morganza spillway and the Atchafalaya river basin. Heretofore, the committee has called in witnesses rather than seek the information personally.

Passman, who as a member of this committee, expressed optimism over the opinions expressed by committee members making the tour. He reported yesterday that members of the Appropriation Committee (for flood control) were tremendously impressed with what we have accomplished in the lower Mississippi valley and have assured me, upon return to their respective states, that for the first time, they understood the problems of the people in the lower Mississippi Valley because it was the first time they had had the opportunity to observe our problem first hand.

Accompanying Passman for the entire tour were Louis C. Rabbot, chairman for the Army Civil Functions appropriation subcommittee, and representatives Jerry Ford and Glen Davis, ranking Republican members of the committee. Two other members, Norrel of Arkansas, and Whidden, Mississippi, joined the inspection party in the Atchafalaya basin.

Passman, who stated that the group traveled from Cape Girardeau, Mo., on the river Steamer Mississippi to Memphis, Tenn., where they boarded an amphibious plane for an aerial inspection of all projects on the Arkansas river and Mississippi river in that area. From Greenville, Miss., to Vicksburg, they again traveled by river steamer inspecting the main levees along the banks.

In Vicksburg, where their plane was waiting, they took to the air and flew over the projects in the Tensas Basin and Red River back waters area. Returning to the steamer Newton the committee continued down stream to Samburg where they went by jeep and horseback to inspect the laying of concrete mats in several portions of the Atchafalaya and Mississippi basins. They also inspected the Morganza spillway and other proposed river projects adjacent to the Atchafalaya spillway to Morgan City, then continued through the Inter-coastal canal to New Orleans, where they attended the annual meeting of the Mississippi Valley Flood Control Association.

It was at this meeting that Passman was elected president of the organization for the coming year.

INSTRUCTION

Private Instruction (40)

DON'T LET THE GOOD JOBS PASS YOU BY

For The Lack of Education, Do as Thousands of others have done, go to the EASY HIGH SCHOOL WAY to get this training.

10 Reasons why our HIGH SCHOOL Course Starts Students:

1. You get individual, careful, and friendly instruction, with particular attention to your own "pet" difficulties.

2. You study standard High School textbooks as used in first-class High Schools, supplemented by our special lesson helps.

3. You are in a class by yourself, so you can go as fast or as slow as you like, instead of being pushed or slowed by a class.

4. Your lessons are promptly corrected and returned to you, so you can see every mistake made and have no chance to form bad study habits.

5. Your Instructors take a personal interest in your welfare and future plans, and are always glad to advise with you if desired.

6. You study only those subjects that count toward a High School Diploma, or that prepare you for specific examinations.

7. You can finish the entire High School Course in two to four years, in your spare time, by averaging two or three hours study per day.

8. You can hold your regular job, and at the same time get a High School education in preparation for business or college entrance.

9. You can easily afford the small monthly payments asked, which cover the cost of both textbooks and instruction.

10. You receive assurance that you can pass college entrance examinations, if required — or money refunded.

Miss Charlotte Jo Chisholm
Weds Kenneth Leon Adams

Saturday Marriage Is Solemnized At First Methodist Church Of West Monroe

On last evening Miss Charlotte Jo Chisholm and Mr. Kenneth Leon Adams were united in marriage in an impressive candlelight ceremony. Miss Chisholm is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Chisholm of 811 Trenton St., West Monroe. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Monroe J. Adams of 2519 North 9th, West Monroe.

The wedding took place at the First Methodist Church, West Monroe at 7:30 in the evening. Rev. R. H. Staples, assisted by Rev. A. T. Mitchell performed the double-ring ceremony in the presence of a large group of friends and relatives.

The church was beautifully decorated with white mums and pampas with a background of southern smilax. White wedding bells made very delicately with lace trim hung at advantageous places in the background and marked the specially assigned pews. Candelabras holding beautifully lit tapers graced the front of the church where the young couple exchanged vows.

Candles were lighted by Masters Freddie Cook and Gordon Spivey wearing black tuxedos.

"Because" was sung by Miss Polly Ragland and "Ah! Sweet Mystery of Life" was sung by Edmund Keith. A group of the couple's friends wearing white choir robes sang "The Lord's Prayer" as the couple knelt. This group was made up of Mrs. Clyde Sanders, Miss Polly Ragland, Mrs. A. P. Burkett, Mrs. Bobby Wilson, Mr. Eugene Smith, Tommy Spurlock, Dale Martha, Dale Cobb directed by Edmund Keith. Mrs. W. W. Watson rendered organ music preceding the ceremony and during it.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Mr. Charles Chisholm. She was beautiful in a traditional slipper satin original by Gladys Filer. The self covered buttons down the front and on the sleeves gave vent to the graceful lines simply accenting the stately design. Her fingertip veil of nylon lace and net completed the picture with coronet of lace and seed pearls. Her bouquet of miniature red roses centered by a white orchid with a yellow throat was appropriately carried on a lovely white satin muff shirred and trimmed with nylon lace.

Miss Bonnie Adams was maid of honor wearing red satin with red velvet accessories. Her bouquet was carried on a velvet muff lending beauty and charm to the occasion.

Mrs. Varon G. Spivey, Lake Village, Ark., aunt of the bride was matron of honor. Mrs. Spivey wore the red satin dress with the red velvet accessories. Her hat was modeled a bit different to accentuate her place in the bridal party.

Mrs. Henry Camp, Sulphur, Mrs. Charles Elliott and Mrs. Gene Williams were bridesmaids, each in their own way lending loveliness and beauty to their place in the party. Their dresses were also of the red satin with red velvet accessories.

Little Miss Jackie Mitchell, niece of the groom, was the flower girl. She was dressed in a floor length red velvet with contrasting muff from which she threw flower petals for the bride to walk on.

Master Bryan Jordan served as ring bearer, dressed in contrast with the other masculine members of the party. He carried the rings in two large rings made of satin and carried gracefully on a small pillow.

The groomsmen were Robert Ed Taylor, Johnny Parker, Hugh Taylor and Henry Camp.

Chester Barron, Natchez, Miss., served as best man.

Ushers were R. C. Wilbanks, Wilbur Webb of Jackson, Miss.

Mrs. Charles Chisholm, mother of the bride chose for her daughter's wedding a light blue satin model with fuchsia trim, a stole draped around the shoulders of fuchsia and blue coloring. A lovely white orchid was her corsage.

Mrs. M. J. Adams, mother of the groom, wore green crepe floor-length model. Her accessories were of yellow gold and her corsage was a white orchid.

The reception followed the ceremony at the Chisholm home, 811 Trenton street, West Monroe. The guests were greeted at the door by little Miss Aimee Hood and Mrs. R. G. Taylor. The house was decorated with the red and white coloring, carrying out still the red and white from the wedding party.

The bride's table was covered with a cut-work grass linen cloth. The beautiful six-tiered wedding cake with tall white tapers on either side and a small arrangement in keeping with the traditional white of flowers was cut by the couple before their leaving on their trip. After the cake was cut, it was later served by the bride's maternal grandmother, Mrs. A. G. Morrison.

The punch was served in the dining room by Mrs. H. J. Eyer, Mrs. F. C. McConnell. Dr. Katherine Foster was in charge of extending dining room courtesies assisted by Mrs. J. E. Whittaker, Mrs. G. C. Warren, Misses Betty Bennett, Jackie White, Carol Jean Williamson, Frances Mitchell, Mary Lou Miller, Ann Lacey, and Johnnie Morris.

Miss Sue Hunt invited the guests

from the living room to the dining room.

Mrs. O. N. Reynolds graciously presided at the guest book.

Those assisting in extending hospitality throughout the house were Mrs. D. C. Metcalfe, Mrs. C. H. Jordan, Mrs. Amos Hood, Mrs. W. M. Snyder, Mrs. S. L. Emory, Mrs. Earl Hamm, Mrs. J. P. McKeon, and Mrs. Norman Rushing.

Coffee was served on the sun porch by Mrs. Rushing, Mrs. Emory, Mrs. Hamm, for those who stayed to see the happy couple off.

The bride chose for her traveling suit an Adelle Simpson of toast color with velvet trim. Her accessories were brown lizard skin. Her hat was toast-colored velvet with contrasting plume. She used the white orchid from her bride's bouquet for her corsage.

The couple left for a wedding trip to Florida, after their return they will be at home at 105 Crosley.

The bride attended Ouachita Parish High School and is a graduate of Centenary College where she was a member of Zeta Tau Alpha sorority. She was active in religious and scholastic activities. A member of Chi Sigma Nu and Maroon Jackets, she was also listed in Who's Who in American colleges, 1950-51. She is now a member of Logtown school faculty.

The groom attended Ouachita Parish High School, N. J. C. and New Orleans Theological Seminary. He served two years in the armed forces and is now employed by the Central Savings Bank in West Monroe. He is minister of music for Trinity Baptist Church.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bridwell, Sue and Sonny of Oklahoma City, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Chisholm, Margie and Elizabeth, Bastrop; Mr. and Mrs. V. G. Spivey, Beverly and Gordon, Lake, Village, Ark.; Miss Hattie Ates, New Iberia; Miss Bonnie Adams, Mr. Howard Ates, Tioga, La.; Mrs. C. L. Baker, Pineville; Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Ates and children, Minden, La.

CAN'T BEAR IT
Banff, Alta. — A woman and her son leaving the upper Hot Springs Pool recently were startled to put it mildly — when a mother grizzly with two cubs stood in the road a few yards away. Rounding back to the Hot Springs office, they telephoned a warning to the folk at their own house nearby.

The woman's husband discharged a shot gun into the air to get the bears headed for the mountain bush again.

'Americanism Victorious' Is Subject Of Talk
By Dr. H. J. Sachs

"America's tremendous production capacity is still its biggest asset in preserving its freedom and combating aggressors."

Dr. H. J. Sachs, head of the department of English at Louisiana Polytechnic Institute at Ruston, made that encouraging observation to members of Delta Rho Delta on Monday evening in the Cameo Room at the Virginia Hotel.

Doctor Sachs said he was convinced that the biggest problem facing one is "keeping your personal, political and economic freedom" . . . there is no problem more serious than providing and maintaining a sound government, and no one has more at stake than you and I.

Offering character, independence in thought and work, freedom, love, faith and competence as essentials of leadership, he said, religion and democracy go hand in hand.

Leaders in the economic fields have as definite responsibilities of citizenship as those in government, education or religion.

He warned against losing faith and confidence in attaining the ultimate goal. Calling the present day one of the most crucial points in history, he said, "I doubt if any people ever have been called upon to defend so strongly so important an ideal . . . such an important way of life. Faith is believing in God no matter how you reverently express your belief . . . no matter what church or temple you attend. Faith is part of a man's heart and all of his soul. Our entire world is blessed with the gifts of faith, each in its own way.

The first two words in the Lord's Prayer are the basis of a complete philosophy—we believe that all men are brothers. Religion is the spiritual father of democracy.

Cheering his audience against the dangers of pessimism, and quoting a great American historian, he said, "When it gets dark enough, the stars come out . . ."

The following members and guests were present: Miss Wilma Smith, Miss Ellen Fontenot, Mrs. N. R. Golson, Mrs. D. C. Metcalf, Mrs. Bertha Patterson, Miss Ann Mickel, Miss Freeda Mickel, Mrs. R. S. Lumley, Miss Lucille Lumley, Miss Teresa Thomise, Miss Marjorie Ewing, Miss Ruth Kennedy, Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Taylor, Miss Mary Louise Farr, Miss Lillian Glenn, Miss Bernice McCrary, Miss Mary Riser, Miss Marguerite Kirkpatrick, Miss Mary Ann Ashford, Mrs. J. ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED*Miss Susan Jean Kennedy Bride
Of Clyde Randolph Brown, Jr.*Grace Episcopal Church Is Setting For Lovely Holiday Wedding

One of the prominent weddings of the Thanksgiving holidays was that of Miss Susan Jean Kennedy and Mr. Clyde Randolph Brown, Jr., both of the Grace Episcopal Church, Friday, the 23rd of November, at 6:30 o'clock in the evening.

Candelight and white stock filled the church which effected a setting of dignity and simplicity. Greenery formed the background for the tall wrought-iron standards holding white stock on either side of the altar rail. The altar was decorated with large sprays of the stock arranged in brass containers.

The Rector, the Reverend David Jones, officiated at the ceremony and heard the vows exchanged.

From the organ, Mr. Frank Parker rendered a program of nuptial music preceding the ceremony.

The bride entered on the arm of Judge S. L. Digby who gave her in marriage. Her beauty was heightened by her wedding gown of Renaissance imported lace. A Victorian collar accented the tightly fitted bodice, from which flowed ankle-length bouffant skirts of tulle and lace. Her delicate shoulder-length veil of illusion cascaded from a cloche of lace. Completing this effect of loveliness were the lace mitts worn by the bride.

She carried a nosegay of brevardia centered with white tulips and lilies of the valley. Her only ornament was a single strand of pearls.

The bride was attended by Miss Helen Stevenson of Shreveport, La., who served as maid of honor. She was gowned in orchid nylon tulle. The strapless basque, fashioned with a matching stole, was accented with silver embroidery. The full ballerina skirt was enhanced by her orchid satin pumps. The hat which she wore was of tucked orchid tulle. Miss Stevenson carried an old-fashioned bouquet of dusty pink stock, separated into delicate individual blossoms. She wore a single strand of pearls and short mitts of identical material of her costume.

Mr. Clyde Randolph Brown, Sr. served his son as best man. Mr. Charles E. McKenzie, Jr., and Mr. Frederick N. Westrom were ushers. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Elmer Kennedy chose a fawn

The aroma of fruit cakes is in the air. I was driving down South Fourth street on Wednesday and almost stopped at one house to see if the housewife didn't have a little sample she'd divide — or — as BARLOW INABNET, JR. always said when he was a little boy "Mrs. Swift, let me and Angy sop the pan." I'd have liked to have just "sopped" the pan.

Four years ago we compiled a book of Twin City fruit cake recipes. Each year since we have given these on request. Thinking that all requests had been filled, we didn't mimeograph more. But this week we have had over a hundred requests so Mrs. Roberts got busy and ran more copies. So many housewives said they wanted to give them for Christmas presents. That's a compliment — not for me but for those women submitting the recipes for the book. You'll find the traditional FILIOU, recipe on page 2. This was submitted by MRS. ANNIE RIMES. On page 3 is MRS. JAMES E. SMITHERMAN'S La. Plantation cork book recipe submitted by GLADYS DICKERSON. MRS. RUFUS HENRY'S Poor Man's Fruit Cake is third. MRS. SAM RUBIN, MRS. HELEN ABEL, MRS. MARIE FRAZIER, MRS. CARRIE MCKENZIE, MRS. JOSHUA WASHINGTON, MRS. O. C. RODDY, MRS. BESSIE TOUCHSTONE and yours truly all have their favorite recipes in the book. MRS. ISAAC KALIL submitted the only Ice Box Fruit Cake recipe (uncooked). Just before Christmas in 1947 SIS WILLIAMS called and said "Mildred, I'm not going to have any money left for Christmas. I've made that KALIL fruit cake so many times it's eating up all my dimes. As fast as I get one in the ice box the family devours it and call for another." If you haven't received a copy in past years, call 3-2251 and make your request.

By the way — you remember THELMA LEE PARSONS who left last week for National 4-H Congress in Chicago. We just received word that she won first alternate scholarship award, competing with girls from 47 other states. Congratulations, Thelma Lee. Leave it to these 4-H Clubbers to keep Louisiana in the lime light.

HAZEL MULHEARN is hemming a shade of pure silk taffeta with a becoming viewpoint neckline. She wore white gloves and a bandeau of matching silk taffeta. Her corresponding satin pumps completed the outfit. Mrs. Brown, the groom's mother, chose a becoming shade of green silk faille for her ensemble. She wore beige gloves with complimenting dark brown accessories.

Following the ceremony reception was held in the Cameo Room at the Virginia Hotel. Guests approaching the main entrance were met by Mrs. Edgar N. Jackson, attired in a champagne French chantilly lace model. Also assisting were Mrs. E. T. Lamkin, who was wearing grey lace over taffeta; Mrs. Elmer Slagle, wearing a dress of black crepe and lace; and Mrs. I. T. Landry, attired in black silk and lace.

The punch table, presided over by Mrs. E. S. Girault, held at its center a crystal punch bowl. Mrs. Girault was wearing a moss green crepe dress.

At one end of the room the mantel was banked by a large arrangement of white stock, lighted by tall white tapers held in silver candelabras.

The bride's table, covered with an imported lace cloth, held a pair of six-branched silver candelabras, upon which were placed white gardenias. White roses and individual blossoms of stock cascaded from four crystal cornucopias. White tulle with wide satin ribbon encircled the three-tiered wedding cake.

Later in the evening when the bride and groom left on their wedding trip, she was wearing an onyx grey wool suit with black accessories and white gloves. She wore a corsage of white lilies of the valley.

The bride was graduated from Ouachita Parish High School and the University of Texas. Mr. Brown is a graduate of Culver Military Academy and Louisiana State University, where he was a member of Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Elmer Kennedy chose a fawn

Bridesmaids were Miss Shirley Boles, sister to the bride, and Miss Dimple Vice, sister to the groom, with Miss Shirley Warren of Ringgold friend of the bride as maid of honor.

Couple Exchange Nuptial Vows In Morning Ceremony At Saint Matthews Church

The Saint Matthew's Catholic Church was the scene of a lovely fall wedding uniting Miss Jo Ann LaMonica, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. LaMonica, and Roy J. Scalia, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Scalia, which was celebrated on Thursday, November 15th at nine o'clock nuptial mass. Monsignor J. C. Marsh officiated in the impressive double ringing service.

The altar was beautifully decorated with a profusion of white mums and greenery. White candle tapers burned in graduated candelabra, casting a glow of beauty on the bridal couple.

A concert of prenuptial music was rendered by Mrs. Della Williamson, who also accompanied Mr. Timothy McCarthy as he sang "Ave Maria" and "Panis Angelicus". The traditional wedding marches marked the beginning and end of the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was radiant in her ankle length wedding gown of white imported Chantilly lace. The tight fitting bodice was fashioned with a yoke of marquisette embroidered with seed pearls with a drop shoulder effect. The long, tight fitting sleeves of lace were buttoned with tiny, self-covered buttons. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell gracefully from a sweetheart crown of lace with pearl trim. She carried a mother of pearl prayer book topped by a white orchid with yellow throat tied with streamers of white satin ribbons and tuberose.

Miss Rita Scalia, maid of honor, was wearing a gown of aqua nylon net over taffeta. Her aqua taffeta bonnet was trimmed with nylon net and rhinestones and she carried a colonial bouquet of pink crown asters tied with rainbow ribbons.

Mrs. C. C. Lucky, matron of honor, was wearing a gown identical to that worn by the maid of honor, in pink nylon net over pink taffeta. She carried a bouquet of white crown asters with rainbow ribbons.

Mrs. E. J. LaMonica, mother of the bride, was charming in a dark grey brocaded taffeta with coral trim. Her accessories were of black and she wore a coral color hat. Her corsage was of vanda orchids. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Frank R. Scalia, looked lovely in a light blue sille with black velvet trim, complimented by a corsage of vanda orchids. Her accessories were of black and she wore a black velvet hat.

Immediately following the wedding a reception was held at the home of Mrs. C. C. Lucky. Throughout the receiving rooms were lovely arrangements of large white mums.

Receiving the guests were the bride and groom, their parents, and members of the bridal party.

The bride's table, overlaid with handmade cutwork linen cloth, was centered with the three-tiered wedding confection surrounded by white crown asters and green fern.

At one end of the table was the crystal punch with silver trays of individual cakes, embossed with tiny rosebuds, and mints.

Presiding at the punch bowl was Mrs. Alma Laurent, aunt of the bride. She was wearing a yellow taffeta gown with yellow aster corsage, assisted by Mrs. Callie Arant, also wearing an aster corsage. Mrs. A. D. Tucker, sister of the groom, wearing a light blue nylon dress with pink aster corsage served the wedding cake. Miss Louise Arant and Miss Virginia Laurent was in charge of the bride's book.

For their wedding trip to Houston and Beaumont, Tex., the bride was wearing a navy blue wool suit, with navy felt hat trimmed with navy blue beads and white feathers. Her other accessories were of blue and she wore the white orchid from her bridal bouquet. Upon their return they will be at home in El Paso, Tex., where the bridegroom, a corporal in the U. Monroe Literary Club Has November Meeting

Mrs. A. Dent Tisdale Is Guest Speaker At Meeting
In Home Of Mrs. A. B. Colmer

Mrs. A. B. Colmer's lovely home on the Calhoun road was the scene of the November meeting of the Monroe Literary Club on Wednesday.

Mrs. W. T. Ellis, club president, opened the meeting and led the group in reading the Club Collect. Roll call was answered by each of those present by stating an interesting fact concerning China. A business session ensued at which it was voted to give a veteran at the Alexandria Hospital, to be put in a Christmas box.

Mrs. A. Dent Tisdale was introduced by the program chairman, Mrs. D. A. Aitick. Mrs. Tisdale's subject was "The Role of China in the Far East." For the basis of her talk, Mrs. Tisdale used James A. Mitchener's book just off the press, called "The Voice of Asia." Mrs. Tisdale said in part: "More than half the world's population lives in China. No one knows where China is going, but her fate is most important to the future of the entire world. China is not a member of the United Nations, and will not be a member as long as she remains Communist.

The history of China followed the Communist pattern from its inception. It is now a military autocracy, in which the intelligentsia have been persecuted and the books burned. Communists have considered a Pacific nation un-infiltrated into China and are destroying it from the bottom up—till twenty years ago, in spite of its intellect. China was always beginning with the peasants in small villages and destroying its social structure, its culture, and her civil difficulties. She has always wanted peace for herself. In the last twenty years, she has changed. We no longer think of her as a pacifist. She has been influenced by the Russians to try to become a great nation.

One or two Communists go into a small village and seize upon the one person who has the most influence and has done the most for the village, and they start a whispering campaign against him. Perhaps it is the mayor, a priest, or the doctor in the village. When the confidence of the people has been entirely destroyed by the smear campaign, the person is accused of some evil deed, and thus they are purged, and the Communists take over.

Military power in China is being steadily placed by the Communists in the hands of the peasant stock, and the youth of China. There is a definite transfer of mentality to Youth.

Communism has rolled over China, and if Russia converts China to Marxism, it will be the most stupendous mass conversion ever accomplished. In China now, the white "sahib" is out—absolutely through. The missionary is out—and the white business man is out. The "Keep Out" sign for the white man is along all the boundaries of Asia. People in China needed food and land—not reforms. In the opinion of many writers, we have lost China from the cause of Democracy because of our "hands off" policy while all this was happening.

After Mrs. Tisdale finished her talk, she was kept busy answering questions in her fluid style from her vast storehouse of information, in an informal discussion session. She is so extremely well read that it is a privilege to spend an afternoon with her.

The hostesses, Mrs. A. B. Colmer and Mrs. J. E. Shannon, served delicious Russian tea and party confections to the following members and one guest: Mrs. J. W. Womack, Mrs. W. T. Ellis, Mrs. D. A. Aitick, Mrs. C. T. Pifer, Mrs. J. D. Kelly, Mrs. C. E. Cee, Mrs. W. D. Kleppinger, Mrs. J. E. Baugh, Mrs. C. D. McAdams, and guest, Mrs. John Watt, and Mrs. A. Dent Tisdale.

'The South In Biography' Is Program For The November Meeting

Mrs. Sam Smith extended a gracious welcome to members of the Review Club when they assembled in her home Monday afternoon for their regular meeting.

Following the reading of the Club Collect Mrs. W. L. Mitchell, Jr., the club's president, conducted a business session during which a report was presented by Mrs. J. K. Brothers, Jr., who as legislation chairman had made a study of a recently passed federal law concerning punishment for the sale of narcotic drugs. Mrs. John P. Noel discussed in interesting manner the need of strengthening the American home using the past Thanksgiving season as an opportunity of establishing new and honoring old traditions that make the memory of home one to be cherished.

The program for the afternoon, the second in the series entitled "The South In Biography," dealt with the life of Robert E. Lee, as interpreted by Douglas Southall Freeman in two of his four volumes on the man who had such a tremendous influence on the south and the southern attitude.

Mrs. Allen Givens comprehensively outlined Lee's ancestry and parentage, which had a marked effect upon his career as well as his character. Born of the wealthy and noble Carter family on his maternal side and of a father, Light Horse Harry Lee, whose military career as a young man was especially brilliant but whose business ability was unsound, Robert E. Lee was strengthened through heritage and necessity in self-denial, self-discipline, understanding and just, dignified behavior. His marriage to Mary Custis, daughter of George Washington Custis, brought pride to him who had always admired and treasured the example of George Washington.

Lee's military career began at West Point, continued after graduation in army engineering projects on the Mississippi River at St. Louis, in the Mexican War, in frontier protection, and finally in the war between the states in 1861. Lee served as superintendent of West Point with distinction and success.

When trouble broke out between north and south Lee was not sympathetic with either side. Slavery as an institution he considered a moral and political evil; secession and deprecating war he opposed; preservation of the union was his desire. It was his firm conviction that forbearance and wisdom on both sides might have prevented the nation's tragedy. Offered command of the Union army, Lee turned it down, resigning from the army because he could "never take a part in an invasion of the southern states or bare sword against Virginia's sons." His inherent devotion to his native state, his deep loyalty to Virginia governed his decision; thus history records him as "a Virginian first, then an American."

Mrs. Benjamin Cobb, although presenting a paper prepared by Mrs. C. P. Gray, Jr., projected her own knowledge and interest of the subject into the review of Lee, the polyanist of the general's served.

Mrs. Wm. Childress Armstrong, Delhi, regent, who also served as organizing regent for the Spicer-Wallace Chapter, one of 3 organized during Mrs. Pharr's term of office as State Regent, introduced the speaker and a number of distinguished guests. In introduction of Mrs. Pharr she said:

"In the years of my prior membership I have wondered why the founders of DAR retained the title Regent for their officers. Regent and Revolution are words of apparent incompatibility in meaning. Rex, Regina, Regent. It was the privilege of this chapter to be organized during the term of one who wore the title so well that, as long as DAR history is written in Louisiana she will be remembered for the quality of her work, her genius for leadership and the gentle grace of her personality."

"The list of her accomplishments is too long to tell in this brief hour but it includes the organization of more new chapters than had been confirmed in a decade. None had been organized for seven previous years. Now she has achieved a well earned National recognition. Long will I cherish this honor, to present Mrs. John Newton Pharr, vice-president general of the Daughters of the American Revolution."

Mrs. Pharr spoke on the work of DAR stressing the fact that all branches of the work must be carried through committee activity. She outlined the duties of these, particularly the Junior American Citizens Club committee. These clubs, sponsored by DAR, are formed in public and parochial, training and reform schools, church groups, settlement houses and community centers throughout the nation. Their aim is to familiarize young people with the aims and traditions of citizenship, to further patriotic knowledge and feeling and to develop talent through crafts. Teachers who work with these groups need not be members of DAR.

She discussed the approved schools program and the work done through the two DAR owned and supported mountain schools and the twelve additional schools and colleges which DAR assists to maintain.

"The DAR manual for Citizenship," she said, "is printed in 19 languages and recently in Chinese at the request of the Naturalization court of California. Going into every state in the union these manuals reach all prospective American citizens through naturalization courts, foreign clubs, schools, churches and scout groups, and is one of the outstanding interests of DAR."

DAR Student Loans are available to deserving students seeking higher education. The rules regarding these loans are flexible and the requirement stipulated by national ruling is simply that the students believe in American principles. Many awards are given by DAR to outstanding high school students and their Girl Home Makers Clubs, also conducted through public schools "stress the love" management and care of the home. For as the home goes so goes the Nation."

The Crosley P.T.A. Study Group Has Discussion Meeting

The Crosley P.T.A. study group met last week in the multi-purpose room with a large group of parents present. Mrs. Helen Smith lead the discussion on "Tensions in Parent-Teacher Relations: Must They Exist?"

Mrs. Smith has been in the past several years there have been workshops in which parents and teachers worked together studying and discussing home-school relationships and this "invisible wall" is gradually being chipped away.

Great progress in home-school relationships has been evident in many ways over the past decade. When both parents and teacher are maturely healthy and emotionally mature, they are able to deal with each other understandingly, each realizing that the other has both unmet needs and deep satisfaction.

They will also realize that their two different patterns of life supplement each other in relation to the child.

Parents and teachers can learn to examine, objectively and with some lightness and humor, the factors that cause tension between them.

They can bring them out into the light and they will come to understand their respective roles in the guidance of children. As they cooperatively fulfill their different functions in the life of the child, a rich reward will come to them.

Miro Book Club Meets In Home Of Mrs. C. R. Tidwell

Mrs. A. L. Peters Is Guest Reviewer At The November Meeting

Monday afternoon, the regular meeting of the Miro Book Club was held in the home of Mrs. C. R. Tidwell. It was called to order by the president, Mrs. B. L. Mulhern, who led in the reading of the Collet and salute to the flag.

One of the first things on the agenda was a splendid report on the State Convention held in Alexandria. This was given by Mrs. B. L. Mulhern who was most enthusiastic about the talk made by Mrs. Whitehurst whose inspiration was contagious and soon permeated the atmosphere of the whole convention-hall. She told of the splendid progress of the State Federation work and as president of the Miro Book Club, Mrs. Mulhern was anxious for every member to put forth a greater effort, and display a special interest in order that the club may avail itself of every opportunity to gain every benefit possible. To further the interest of the members, Mrs. Thos. Jett, state officer, pointed out the various projects to center our attention on, and then, work for the worthwhile things that will give the Miro Club a place of distinction.

Mrs. Jett, general chairman for "CARE for Korea" asked for volunteers who would work the various stores for voluntary contributions to this well-deserved fund. Mrs. George Temple, as chairman for library work, collected many books which will be packed and sent to a Kansas library recently burned.

It was announced that Mrs. B. L. Mulhern and Mrs. Thos. Jett were again awarded a reading certificate for the library. New lists were given to all members to guide them in the type of books to read in order to be eligible for a certificate.

A contribution was made to Golden Jubilee work.

Business being concluded, Mrs. Mulhern, the president turned the meeting over to Mrs. C. R. Tidwell, program chairman, who introduced Mrs. A. L. Peters, reviewer of the book: "The Age of Jackson" by Arthur M. Schlesinger Jr. Mrs. Peters delighted her listeners as well as instructed them by showing them the phases of our America's heritage of equal opportunity.

This book could only in a very wide sense be called a biography of Andrew Jackson, for, if it is biographical, it is also the historical, cultural, economic and political life of the United States as it grew and formed from Jefferson's day. In it, the author offers an interpretation of democracy's future through a lengthy and brilliant study of its past. The world crisis has given new urgency to the question of the "meaning" of democracy. The key to that meaning is rather to be thought in the concrete record of what democracy has meant in the past.

The heritage of Andrew Jackson is his unending contribution to the vitality of our democracy. As we look back on his amazing personality, we review his battles because the struggles he went through, the enemies he encountered, the defeats he suffered and the victories he won are part and tion of Jefferson and Jackson might recede but could never disappear.

We owe to Jacksonian democracy the American doctrine that entrusts the general welfare to no one group or class but dedicates itself to the end that the American people shall not be thwarted in their high purpose to remain the custodians of their own destiny.

After this serious study of democracy, Mrs. Tidwell presented a film on Andrew Jackson. This was furnished by the State Library and the courtesy of the Ouachita Parish Library and shown by Mr. O. T. Trapp who was assisting Mr. Sanford. Having followed Mrs. Peters in her study, the members doubly appreciated a reenactment that brought to actual view the interpretation of democracy.

Mrs. Tidwell, next, introduced Mrs. J. W. Murphy who gave a most interesting article on the Hermitage, telling how in the early years of the 19th century, hand-made bricks were gradually used in the making of plain structures, large and substantial. The most noted example of a Nashville firm was the rebuilding of the Hermitage in 1835. His previous home having been burned, Jackson acquired the Hermitage Plantation early in his career. His wife Rachel never saw the charming house in its present condition. In 1845, some years after Jackson's death,

Cedar Rapids, Ia. — The memory of the late Grant Wood, one of Iowa's most widely known artists, has been honored here. A new, modern school building recently was dedicated as "Grant Wood School."

Wood once taught art in Cedar Rapids. Seven Grant Wood drawings, made for the endpapers of the book, "Farm on the Hill," were presented to the new school by Mrs. Nan Wood Graham, the artist's sister. Mrs. Graham posed for some of his paintings including the well-known "American Gothic" and "Portrait of Nan." Wood died in 1942.

YWCA Activities

The YRG's Club held their regular supper-program meeting at the Y on Monday evening. After the delicious supper prepared by Mrs. Hundley and served by Helen Crosby and Pearle Hopkins, the meeting was called to order by Helen Crosby, the president. Tommie Jean Lee gave the devotional which was most interesting. One of the things that she brought out in her devotional was an article with the picture from a newspaper showing how a soldier in Korea had taken a picture of two airplanes in flight and when the picture was developed the clouds' formation revealed the picture of the head of Christ. Plans for the club's Christmas party were then made and the party will be held on Deember 17. Miss Sharp made a short talk to the club. The meeting was adjourned with the Mizpah benediction.

Y-Teens

The Y's Teens Club had a party at the Selman School with the boys from the 7th and 8th grade as their special guests. The Blue Triangle Club met at Lenwil School and the meeting was opened with the Y-Teen Song. Carma Brantley gave the devotional. The Y-Teen rally which will be at the Booster Hall was discussed by the group. Plans for the club's Christmas party, project, and a program which the group will give in January were discussed. Several of the girls entertained the group with musical numbers and the group enjoyed playing games. The meeting was closed with the Y-Teen motto. The Jolly Y Janes Club met on Wednesday, November 28. Emma Jean Hall gave the devotional. A new member, Nettie Marie Bacle, was welcomed by the club. Karol Yarbrough, a member of the YD Awake Club, talked to the group about the Christmas party which the YD Awake Club is sponsoring for all high school Y-Teens at the Recreation Center on December 20. On Saturday morning part of the program will be a panel discussion and Emma Jean Hall was elected to be the clubs' representative. The club will also participate in the rally by presenting a skit. The meeting was closed with the motto.

Talking Seals Entertain Hundreds In West Monroe

Captain John Triebor And His Trained Seals Put On Exhibition Shows For Local Children And Adults; Spends Week Here With Relatives

With the advent of automobiles replacing the horse and buggy, and "flying steel birds" (airplanes) zooming through the air; a pet phrase with parents to their children was quite often — "When you grow up dogs will be talking and people will be traveling to the moon."

Although a trip to the moon, predicted to come early in the 21st century has not yet been accomplished; the prophecy of talking animals has become a reality with one of Captain John Triebor's trained seals which says — "Ma-Ma," and hums like an airplane.

Captain Triebor, who has trained seals since 1909, is reputed to possess the best trained seals throughout the nation, having performed in all the country's leading theaters, including Radio City, the Roxy, and all top Chicago theaters.

Associated with the greatest circuses of our time, the captain spent 12 years with Ringling Brothers as a featured act. He also trained and performed with seals for Barnum and Bailey Circus, Super Circus, and more recently appeared on television with his son and as associate, Jimmy, and their nine-year-old seal performers, "Charlie" and "Jimmy."

Having just completed a ten-day engagement with the Shrine Circus in New Orleans, Captain Triebor arrived here Monday to spend a few days with his wife, and her sister, Mrs. Andrew Olsen, Mr. Olsen, and Mr. George McCormick, who maintain a large country home on rolling acres in the suburban area of West Monroe.

Mr. and Mrs. Triebor live in Tonawanda, N. Y., but due to his engagements in San Antonio and Mexico throughout the winter, Mrs. Triebor will visit her sister during the winter months while the captain and his son travel.

During his short visit here the captain has given private performances nightly; enabling many to witness remarkable feats exhibited by his trained seals.

Seals Perform Here

Around six o'clock each evening this week, excited spectators have taken seats in the arena of the "Barn" owned by Mr. McCormick and the Olsens.

The hustle and bustle subsides and even the chatter of small children becomes hush for—the one-act circus is about to begin.

And here they come, Charlie and Jimmy, as they sway from side to side, attempting at once to run, walk and jump into the ring.

With almost human characteristics, all 275 pounds of these husky black fellows enter the ring to give a unique performance before the wide-eyed audience.

Their big dark eyes beam, comparable to those of a cocker-spaniel. Jimmy blows a horn with his foot while Charlie blows with his nose.

They work very quickly but apparently and a fish must be their reward upon completion of each trick.

Jimmy is interrogated with a number of names as to which is his. He shakes his head negatively to all which are not his and most vigorously, when asked if his name is Charlie. He then nods approval with a most superior air when the name "Jimmy" is uttered.

"Jimmy," a little older than Charlie, is most sensitive and quite jealous so he has been trained more. Jimmy sings a song, says ma-ma, hums, plays "America" on a set of horns, laughs, jumps up and kisses his trainer and dances a grass skirt for his Hula dance.

After each trick, the pair roll over and clap their flippers.

Another fish, and then "Charlie" balances himself and walks around the arena on his front flippers which he uses almost as adaptly as a human's hands.

Oh, oh, Jimmy is "green with envy" so he rushes to the front of the arena, tosses his head, and blows his horn two or three times.

Ah — success at last — a fish — and attention.

Jimmy then climbs a ladder and balances himself on one fore flipper, becoming quite an acrobat as he lifts his rear flippers, while posing with a ball at the end of his nose.

Charlie, feeling neglected by now, performs again balancing a long, colored stick with a ball at the end of his nose. — "These seals are nosy," — in fact, they do everything with their noses. The stick is removed by the captain and "Charlie" catches the ball on his nose.

One more fish and Jimmy rolls down turning over on his back as Charlie approaches. Charlie places his two front flippers on Jimmy's and balances himself with his tail and rear flippers pointed upwards to the sky.

Exhilarated over their feats, the seals toss a ball from nose to nose, blow their horns, and cut up generally.

Jimmy even rolls himself up in a rug in imitation of a mummy and then clinches his head in a bucket.

The applause for and from Jimmy and Charlie is most generous, so they are quite willing to be approached and petted by children and spectators.

One lady watching the exhibit, decided to invite a kiss from Jimmy, but was considerably startled when she discovered what she expected to be a nice quiet smack was a very loud snap.

Jimmy and Charlie are off to bed, after their feeding and baths. Captain Triebor stated that "the seals consume about 20 pounds of fish between them daily. When questioned about a seal's intelligence as compared to other animals, he replied, "It is my consensus of opinion, having seen all species of animals trained, that seals are by far the most intelligent." This surmise is not difficult to believe after witnessing such a show.

The captain further pointed out that a seal's memory is far above the average animal's and their balance is extraordinary.

Beginning his business career as an accountant, the captain explained, "I first became interested in seals and their training through a friend's uncle, Captain Tom Webb who was one of the first seal trainers in this country."

Thus envolved his association with seals and the animal world. Captain Triebor also remarked that "My wife performed with the act for many years before she decided to remain at home in New York and maintain our seal equipment and training facilities located there."

Upon inquiring as to his unusual experiences while dealing with seals, the captain replied, "The most trying hours I've ever spent occurred one Sunday afternoon in San Antonio where I was working with Ringling Brothers Circus. My seals appeared to be under complete control, so I let them all loose in a large tank, then to my utter dismay, an electrical storm arose and it took me five hours to get them out of their den. I was afraid they wouldn't come out in time for Monday's show."

Seals have taken the captain into all parts of the world, including such countries as Germany, England, France, South America, Australia, across the Pacific to the Hawaiian Islands, and Cuba.

"Of all these countries," he explained, "the Latin people seem to get most excited over the seals."

The captain, his son, and their two seals left early Saturday morning in their van, completely equipped with tank, heating facilities, and a dressing room, headed for San Antonio where they will be engaged for a few days, before continuing on to Mexico for the winter.

The caravan certainly impressed those who witnessed its performance, and it is anticipated that when "leaves become green again," and spring is here, their group will remain a few days then and give others the pleasure of viewing a truly fine, exciting performance.

OLDEST DRIVER
Sheet Harbor, N. S.—Nova Scotia's oldest licensed automobile driver is 93-year-old Henry Hall of this eastern shore town. Active and alert despite his years, he has had only one accident in 36 years of driving—he knocked the hub cap off another car while passing on a narrow road 35 years ago.

DESK, DERRICK CLUB IS FORMED

Local Organization Submits Charter For National Approval

One of the newest and most unique clubs to be organized in the Twin Cities is the Desk and Derrick Club comprised of girls working in oil and gas offices.

One of the fastest growing national organizations in the country, the Desk and Derrick Club is organizing a chapter here and has scheduled its first meeting for 7 p.m. December 11 at the Virginia Hotel.

The charter for the Monroe club has been drawn up and submitted to the New Orleans club for approval.

Officers elected in the Desk and Derrick Club are: Mrs. Louise Caldwell, president; Miss Marie Causio, vice-president; Miss Ninon Causio, recording secretary; Miss Kay Gillum, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Bertha Patterson, treasurer.

A membership drive is now on and all girls eligible and interested in becoming a member of Desk and Derrick are urged to attend the first meeting, explained the president.

All girls employed by oil and gas companies are eligible for membership, declared Mrs. Caldwell. It was also pointed out that there are at least 50 persons and possibly more who are eligible for membership.

The Shreveport Desk and Derrick Club has more than 100 members and other chapters report more than 200 members.

The Desk and Derrick Club was founded by Miss Avey, secretary to John F. Bricker, Humble Oil and Refining Company, New Orleans.

From a desire to better acquaint herself with girls in like businesses and to learn more about her own company's technical operations, Miss Avey started a movement that has been far reaching in scope and soundly rooted in purpose. The first Desk and Derrick Club was organized in the spring of 1949.

On June 1, 1951, the D and D Clubs became a national organization, the Association of Desk and Derrick Clubs of America, with the four original clubs as charter members: New Orleans, La., the first club; Jackson, Miss., the second club to form; Houston, Tex., and Los Angeles, Calif. Since that time Wichita Falls, Tex., Denver, Colo., and Casper, Wyo., have joined the national association, and four other clubs who have held their annual meetings only.

An educational club, the Desk and Derrick spirit has been contagious. New clubs are being formed in many cities and gas and oil companies everywhere cooperate with the girls one hundred percent.

"For his leadership in the fields of scholarship and cultural activities, as one of the highest rating students in the college of arts and sciences; as recipient of the Phi Kappa Phi freshman award and the student honor award in his college and as a member of the Phi Eta Sigma, Beta Tau Mu and other honorary and professional organizations, and as a justice in the honor court, Omicron Delta Kappa recognizes Duncan Drake Burford."

If you want to salt pecans arrange them in a thin layer in a shallow pan, adding a teaspoon of butter or margarine per cup of nuts; sprinkle lightly with salt. Bake in a moderate oven about twenty minutes, stirring often. When the pecans are delicate brown remove and cool on paper toweling. Good holiday eating!

Answer To Question No. 1

1. It depends on each student's personality. When tape recordings of recitations were played back two days later, students recalled an amazing amount of their thoughts.

Personality tests showed that bright students who had negative thoughts, had mentally criticized what was being said by both instructor and classmates. Less bright, negative students criticized classmates — their clothes, appearance and conduct. Students suffering from anxiety, thought mostly about themselves. Positive-minded students were not hyper-critical.

Answer To Question No. 2

2. Yes, especially in skills such as typewriting or piano practice where movements become almost unconscious. When a typist is told not to make a mistake, her movements become conscious and voluntary as they were when she started to learn. If a golfer thinks he must relax, he likely will find his ball—downs one—a sixth often is further evidence that emotionally balanced men get wives or wives make them emotionally balanced.

EX-RECORD BREAKER PENSIONED

Rome — HP — The man who gave Italy her only speed record for the North Atlantic crossing by ship is now retired on an $11 a month pension.

This is the typical pension of some 20,000 Italian merchant seamen who sailed the seas for at least two decades before being retired.

Francesco Tarabotto, former captain of the "Rex" luxury liner, guided the "Rex" across the ocean in 1933 in four days 13 hours and 58 minutes — breaking the record held at that time by the German transatlantic liner, Bremen.

The air is drier after a thunder-shower than before.

Regal Gifts of Silver

Silverplated gravy boat and tray make gift that will last for years. Servers are in same design to make completely coordinated set.

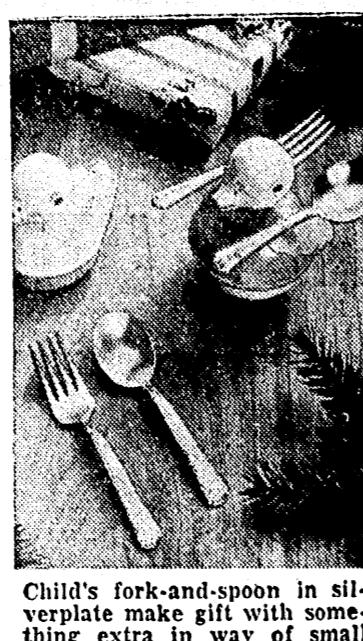

By Gaile Dugas

Silver is a coveted girl at any time. It's attractive to look at, it's durable, it brightens any table, any room. And it is somehow especially pretty and shiny when it's lifted from gay wrappings and ribbon on Christmas morning.

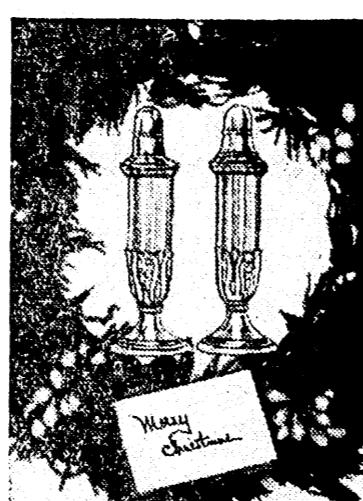

Silver, though lovely, needn't be costly. If it's a fine sterling-inlaid silverplate, it will look well, and wear well, for many years.

A versatile gravy boat and tray with matching servers, for instance makes a silver gift that's smartly coordinated and yet budget-priced. The gravy boat can hold sauce as well as gravy.

For another gift that will make a dazzling appearance for a pittance

Child's fork-and-spoon in silverplate make gift with something extra in way of small plastic duck that's a real toy.

Pair of table lighters in heavy silverplate and period styling can be used anywhere.

While you're Christmas-shopping for silver gifts, bear in mind the fact that there is no federal tax on any silverplated flatware. That, itself, is a help in clipping the corners on a budget.

Jacket bottom are edged in velvet. A brunch coat would look equally nice in a big white box under the tree on Christmas morning. Pick one that's wasable, in a pale yellow quilted bemberg crepe. Lovely at breakfast on Christmas Day and for many days thereafter.

One of the many small gifts that looks luxurious and is priced for pennies is a tiny evening purse in rich pastel bemberg brocade. It comes equipped with matching compact and lipstick.

The French purse in metallic bemberg brocade is a wonderful and deceptive gift; deceptive because it looks so trim and flat and actually holds so much. Inexpensive, too, though it has costly look.

These are just starters. There are also checkbook covers in twisted gold yarns or in velvet studded with rhinestone crowns. There are glasses and comb cases in beaded velvets. Or satin belts alight with iridescent bugle beads.

For the older woman, try a spray of red velvet rosebuds on satin stems or black velvet roses with rhinestone crowns. There are engagement book or shopping list case in lovely silk brocade. All of these are gifts any woman would love to own and none of them are costly.

UP IN THE AIR

Denver—(AP—"Dr. Koo" in a little more than one year of life has logged more flight mileage than an average eagle does in a lifetime—but not under his own power. United Airlines recently bestowed a 100,000-mile certificate on the diminutive Australian parakeet. "Dr. Koo" is the pet of Mrs. Edward J. Birmingham of Duncan, Wyo., and has gone with her on nearly every one of her many trips.

The bird was named after Dr. Wellington Koo, former Chinese ambassador to the United States.

These Christmas gifts for her look glamorous, are practical from a woman's point of view. Robe (left) is budget-priced bemberg quilted crepe. Tiny evening purse (upper center) in bemberg brocade has own matching compact and lipstick and a small price. Maltese cross (upper center) is studded with colorful cabochons.

By Gaile Dugas
Even during the Christmas season, there are rules about shopping. But it's the women who know them, not the men.

Men are abashed about shopping for women. They take the first large, economy size bottle of French perfume or the first black lace lingerie the salesgirl shoves at them. They know there must be something around in the stores that women like. But what, they can't imagine.

They need help. They need to know how to pick things that women won't exchange on Dec. 26 and they need to consider their wallets when they shop.

Costume jewelry is a good place to start. A handsome Maltese cross, for instance, looks expensive pinned at the hipline.

Electricity Is A Gift To Turn On-Or Tune In

Electric sheet comes in decorator colors, has single or dual controls, is washable. It can pack in overnight bag.

Alarm clock in modern design has tweed fabric face, makes all-around clock for small apartment or home.

New waffle baker has grids that need no breaking-in, five automatically controlled settings for waffles.

— Gaile Dugas

Electrical gifts are high on the nation's shopping list every Christmas. It isn't just the initial pleasure they give; it's the knowledge that for many Christmases after, they'll be making life easier and more pleasant.

New for shoppers this Christmas is an electric sheet that's both practical and pretty. Made of mercerized broadcloth in decorator colors, it has single or dual controls.

It's washable and compact enough to pack easily in an overnight bag. The control case goes either on a night table or in a special metal hanger that clips to the headboard of the bed.

A brand new waffle baker, one with 51 square inches of griddle area, will bake four king-size waffles at a cooking. Any waffle lover will be won over by the grids, which require no greasing or breaking-in.

Further, there's a built-in batter rim to catch the overflow and prevent it from dripping onto the table. The baker also has five automatically controlled settings that

This teen-ager, long on friends and short on cash, makes her own Christmas gifts. She puts finishing handwork (center) on matching corduroy bag and belt set. Other easy-to-make gifts include silk-

BY ANNE LARSEN

If there are more names on your holiday gift list than dollars in your Christmas savings, these teen-age gifts - to - make may help solve your problem.

Almost any young miss would be delighted with an evening stole of velvet edged with silk fringe. If you have never sewed before, turn to your local sewing center for assistance.

To make this glamour wrap, cut both velvet and lining fabric into lengths 27 by 40 inches, then stitch them together allowing half - inch seams all around. Trim each end with fringe.

With a standard slipper pattern, about a yard of satin and a pair of soles, you can turn out slippers fit for a queen's boudoir. They are particularly attractive when a contrasting color is used for the lining. Trim each end with fringe.

For this effect, use a half - yard of each shade of satin. Finish them off with round pearl buttons at the instep, for a final provocative touch.

Another gift with sure - fire appeal is a dress - up belt combining your local sewing center, velvet and glitter, both fashion's pets this year. To make such a belt, cut the velvet on the lengthwise grain of the fabric.

Length should be waistline measurement plus seven inches for the finished belt plus seam allowance.

Fold the strip together and stitch the edges on the wrong side. Shape one end to a point. Leave the other open. After pressing seams open, turn the belt right - side - out and press again. Use an ironing cloth, to avoid sticking the velvet.

Add a buckle, and a sparkling design of glitter buttons, and the job is done. If the belt is a wide one, use buckram for stiffening.

A more tailored belt, with a matching bag, can be made with a standard pattern from a yard of corduroy and a yard of lining fabric such as sateen.

Matching corduroy - covered buckles are used as novel decoration for this twosome. If buckle-covering is beyond your talents, turn this part of the job over to a machine - stitching around the edge will secure both.

This oblong of fabric assumes the shape of a handbag when it is divided into thirds and folded over.

The lower third is joined at the sides to the center section; the top section turns down to form the flap of the purse.

The beret is made by cutting two circles from the washable wool plaid. The circumference usually preferred is about 25 inches.

The first circle is stiffened with buckram and lined with rayon. From the middle of the second circle, a round center piece is cut away to fit the desired head size.

Washable wool plaid is the fabric used for a tartan beret and purse set which should set any young girl to dancing a highland fling on Christmas morning.

The purse is made from a straight length of material, and can be cut to the shape and size desired. Buckram, for stiffening, should be basted to the wrong side of the plaid, and then rayon lining hand - stitched on top of that. One machine - stitching around the edge will secure both.

The first circle is stiffened with buckram and lined with rayon. From the middle of the second circle, a round center piece is cut away to fit the desired head size.

This piece, which is called a gusset, is also stiffened and lined.

The two circles are then sewed together to make the beret, and the head opening is finished off with a plain fabric band.

Santa Claus Has New Games For Everybody

Everybody from Grandpa to the baby can get in on the fun of this year's crop of Christmas games.

With family fun in mind, Santa has packed his sleigh with games for all ages, including the pre-schoolers who have not yet learned to read.

Inflation gets attention from the gamesters this year, with a brand new game called Boom or Bust, which dramatizes the dizzy whirl of property values during inflation and depression as contrasted with normal times. The new trading game will find just as enthusiastic addicts among parents as among children, fitting the skills of both age groups. The board used in the game shows typical urban properties such as a beauty parlor, grocery, movie house, barber shop and such. Players buy and sell at prices which zoom or fall depending on the business cycle.

Globe-trotting by airplane, boat, train and bus are illustrated with careful attention to relative costs and time of travel by different modes of transportation in a new game with a polarized map. School room routine, stock trading, oil prospecting, crime detection and many other "real life" situations inspire varied forms of new parlor competition.

The trend toward games that give the youngsters who can't read or write a chance to compete happily with older brothers and sisters and their parents are featured. Scatterbug, for example, is a new variety of spinning game that's designed to appeal to all ages. Each player spins a top by holding it directly over a hole in the center of the board. The top dances in and out of various openings and scatters the playing disks all over the field. When the top stops spinning,

Toys that really work will hold the spotlight under 1950 Christmas trees. Small mother (center) serves malted milk, swirled in her own mixer, to doll that sips from straw. The other doll recites nursery rhymes while admiring tea table set with plastic "silver" flatware and hollow-ware, crystal and china. Plastic ukulele (upper left)

By Anne Larsen

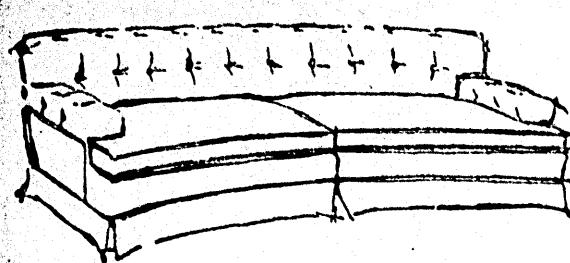

If the toys which Santa is already loading into his sleigh are any indication, this will be a noisy Christmas. The fading sounds of his jingle bells will be replaced by the yippee-ki-ay of well-equipped small cowboys and the domestic murmur of little mothers whose doll children actually talk back.

Rook, the classic card game, is featured in a de luxe party kit with four different colored packs and a gala set of scoring aids. Another old timer in new dress is Jackstraws, now featured with an electric ankle. Players grope for straws through a perforated metal box top. Jack straws must be obtained without touching the metal; when fingers fumble, the electricity makes a loud buzz. New version of chess and checkers are among the season's new offerings. Monopoly, the real estate trading game, continues to be a top favorite. Pin the tail on the donkey has a 1951 offshoot—pin the nose on Rudolph, the Red Nosed Reindeer is the objective.

A new thrill in hobbies is a tile kit designed to help junior and his sister make useful coasters and plaques for the family. There's a big increase in kits for making costume jewelry from beads and shells. Junior dressmakers have their own sequin kits. New plastic materials make belt weaving easier for small fry. Electric woodburning kit; include paints and instructions for making varied types of smartly styled plaques. For collectors there is a wide variety of old-fashioned car models.

Toys for boys also feature workability. A street-sweeper actually picks up litter; a garage features pumps that really work and elevators that hoist diminutive cars to a parking lot on the roof; cattle in a railway pen move up the loading ramp by remote control, with no assistance needed this year from small-fry engineers of electric trains.

For Christmas Belles

This Christmas belle becomes queen of the ball with this bubble crown which glitters with king's ransom magnificence at penny-bant cost. Self-stem Christmas tree ornaments and silver pipe cleaners are only materials needed for this regal hair accessory.

Many women, feeling that the chenille pipe cleaners.

If it's a suit or a tailored dress you're wearing, a Victorian Christmas posy is the thing to proclaim your holiday spirit. To make a backdrop for the little nose-gay, pleat red metallic paper into a small circle. Onto this attach in Patriot Easterbrook Roberts, well-known New York floral designer, offers these suggestions for those who wish to add a sparkle to their appearance and to party prettily.

A decided conversation piece is a bubble crown which bestows regality upon its wearer at pin money cost. All that's needed to create this gleaming magnificence is a handful of Christmas tree balls—the kind with self-stems and a half-dozen pipe cleaners.

Silver pipe cleaners, which catch the eye with a tinsely glitter, are available at your florist. Twist these into a circle to fit the crown of your head, then loop on additional cleaners to form puffs for the silver balls. Attach the ornaments, and then you're all set to be the most brilliant Christmas belle at the ball.

To peek coyly from beneath the hem of a swishing formal, here's another idea involving pipe cleaners. They're of red chenille this time, paired with red metallic thread which is available at needlework counters.

To make a holiday-happy butterfly to perch upon each shoe, begin by looping the metallic thread in figure-eight fashion around the thumb and little finger of your left hand. Continue winding until there is enough thickness for fluffy wings.

The body and the feelers of the gossamer insect are made of red pipe cleaners, which are looped under at the bottom to form little hooks for securing the butterflies to your slippers.

A Juliet cap is an accessory that is sure to create a stir of admiration at teen-age holiday festivities. Pipe cleaners are again the heroes of the tale.

Green metallic and white chenille ones are twined together to form a circle to fit the head, and to serve as cross bars from ear to ear and from front to back. Little white straw flowers, tacked on around the circle and at the peak of the cap, give a translucent delicacy to the design. Aqua glitter, sprinkled onto their centers to which you've dropped a bit of glue, adds a final touch of seasonal sparkle.

Straw flowers are used again to make an arresting wristlet to wear on formal occasions. Fresh ivy leaves, bordered with silver glitter which has been applied to an edging of glue, form effective, glossy-green background for the snow-white flowers. The arrangement is secured to the wrist with green

A Juliet cap of green metallic and white chenille pipe cleaners twisted together, studded with tiny white straw flowers, is a gay touch for a teen-ager dressed for holiday fun.

A wristlet of white straw flowers, glowing against a setting of ivy leaves edged with silver paint, adds a handsome complement to any formal gown.

If you aren't fired with enthusiasm over the idea of bedecking your home with the same old weary decorations left over from last Christmas, try something new and different this year.

One idea, contributed by Peter Hunt, whose sprightly designs are leaders in the field of American folk-art, is a wooden chandelier to brighten your living room.

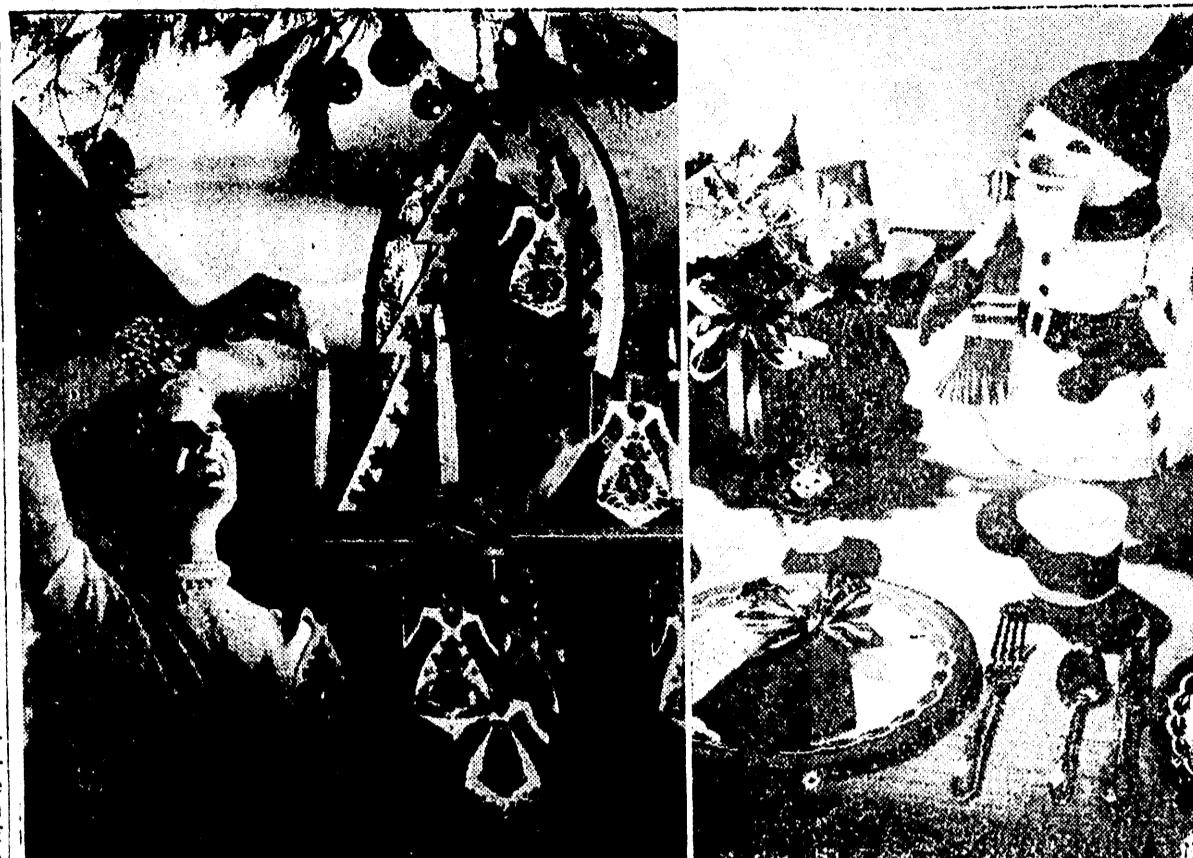

This is created from nothing fancier than an old wagon wheel, from which the spokes have been removed, a couple of pieces of wood, plywood and four discarded drawer pulls.

Suspend in the center of the wheel a stylized Christmas tree which can easily be cut from plywood with a power or coping saw.

At the bottom of the wheel, attach two narrow planks crossed at right angles. These will support the drawer knobs, which have been hollowed out to hold candles, and stylized angels which have also been sawed out of plywood by the home handy-man.

To decorate your Yuletide chandelier, apply enamel in the various colors you choose, using the basic Peter Hunt stroke. This is a simple brush mark in the shape of a tear-drop. Start the stroke with the brush flat, then gradually lift it until only the tip of the bristles touch. Curve the tail for scalloped effects. Once these fundamentals

Cosmetics Go In Hiding For Yule

Cosmetic favorites in new Christmas wrappings surround this girl, who chooses gifts for her friends from luxurious array. The small Santa Claus (upper right) perches atop a box which has a drawer concealing a bottle of perfume. Next (right center) is a purse size bottle of perfume in a gay Christmas wreath, to dangle from a tree bough. Then there's lipstick (lower right) hidden in a small Christmas tree meant as tree ornament or stocking stuffer. The dusting powder (lower left) in a white box sprinkled with gold stars has a small drawer which holds a bottle of bath oil.

It's become, by now, a rule of thumb that no cosmetic dare be a candidate for Christmas giving while looking like perfume, cologne, bath powder or lipstick.

One perfume, for example, comes in a medal-shaped bottle draped in 24-carat gold plate suspended from a bright presentation ribbon.

Or, there's wafer perfume put up in a mother-of-pearl miniature perfume compact with a rhinestone center. It dangles from a snake chain and becomes, therefore, a bracelet.

Perfume is also available this Christmas in solid form in a gilded filigree perfume hall with pin attached, to wear on a dress or suit lapel, and there's even perfume to burn, in an electric perfume burner which is brand new this Christmas.

The burner is in polished bronze and resembles a miniature skillet. A separate heating element is on a footed stand.

Soap, if it's 12 cakes in a box and therefore one bar of fragrance for each month in the year, is a gift which will appeal to any woman. Bland and hand-milled, these guest size cakes are in a white box with cover trimmed in gold and white lace.

Then, there's a Christmas tree perfume at the other.

Glamor Wrappings

Any Christmas gift takes on added charm when it's given original packaging. This girl covers a shopping bag (left) with printed cellophane, making a handsome wrapping for Christmas fruit. Popcorn balls (upper right) are prettier wrapped in clear cellophane and taped to a cardboard sled. An ice cream container (right center) covered with printed cellophane and given a shredded cellophane rope makes a candy container. Cardboard satchel with pom-pom ends (lower right) provides packaging for any gift which is difficult to wrap.

By Gail Dugas
The solution to the problem of wrapping the difficult or bulky Christmas gift lies in converting materials at hand into convenient containers. And in doing this, the gift itself takes on added importance.

Christmas fruit always presents a wrapping problem. One of the prettiest and easiest solutions lies in giving an ordinary paper shopping bag real glamor. Use printed cellophane to cover the bag, securing it with tape. The cellophane roping which trims the top of the bag is held in place with spongy wire. Allow enough roping to permit a bow trim for the bag.

A snow man and lady, made of popcorn and mounted on a cardboard sled, can be an attractive, inexpensive gift for a child. They are covered with clear red and blue cellophane and wear ties made of printed cellophane ribbon. Arms are popcorn-filled cellophane tubes, fastened on with tape. The features are red and blue tape. The snow man wears a cone-shaped hat of blue cellophane, secured with tape. The hat perched on the snow lady's head is a red oval with ribbon trim ending in a bow under her chin. Her partner gets a glass straw slipped over a pipe cleaner as his cane.

For the sled, cut two runners from cardboard to fit the sides of a small box. Wrap the box with cellophane the long way and slip the runners in under the side folds. Add roping to the front of the runners and fasten snow man and lady in place with tape.

A sturdy cardboard ice cream container can be turned into a handsome candy box. The handle, made of a 12-inch length of cellophane rope goes on first. Form the rope into a loop and tie the ends together with tie wire. Poke the wire ends into the box top and twist them together underneath.

GO TO CHURCH IS BEING URGED

Mayor's Proclamation Issued; Everyone Needed In Pews

Go to church this Sunday and every Sunday in the month of December is being urged by civic and patriotic groups in the Twin Cities, backed by a proclamation of Mayor John Coon who has decreed that the coming month be set aside for consecration and worship. Certainly in a world torn by constant threats of atomic bomb destruction all stand in need of a return to the church and to the worship of God.

It has become very easy to excuse oneself and say he will not attend church for he has a hangover or tired from the strenuousness of a big business week. But

December 2, 1951 and go there reverently with a prayer on our lips.

To counteract the lazy habit of indifferent church attendance, it is urged that December, the final month of the year and the month that is observed as the natal month of our Saviour, be set aside for a renewed and deepened spiritual life, for church attendance, and a realizing of the deeper more abiding things of life.

Let's all turn over a new leaf, and be in our places this Sunday, December 2, 1951 and go there reverently with a prayer on our lips.

Bobby Phelps, who is stationed in Virginia, was called here Saturday on account of the serious illness of his grandfather, Mr. Ed Phelps.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Burgess and Shreveport were guests of Mrs.

does not. He decides that after all the great outdoors is what he most needs. There is a game of golf that would do wonders in giving a respite from toll. Or it may be a long auto trip half way across the state will be chosen. There are innumerable ways that a tired man can turn to devote the hours of Sunday.

One Sunday of leisure and pleasure leads to another and soon a lifetime habit of church-going is knocked into a cocked hat, and thereafter a new and free and easy habit has taken its place, the habit of why go to church at all anyway?

Mr. and Mrs. George Thorgerson of Baton Rouge spent a few days in Farmerville this week with Mrs. Thorgerson's mother, Mrs. John W. Taylor.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland Dykes and little son, Jim, of Dallas, Tex., spent the Thanksgiving holidays here with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Dykes.

Mr. H. E. Holloway and Mrs. Christine Allen of Camden, Ark., visited Mr. Holloway's grandmother, Mrs. Mae H. Odom Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Allen and little son, Jerry spent Thanksgiving at Hones, as guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Emerson.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwards Stout of

Sunday, December 2, 1951, Monroe Morning World C-8
Monroe spent the Thanksgiving holidays here with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kennedy.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Davidson and children and Mrs. D. O. Ramsey spent Thanksgiving at Monroe as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Keller.

Mr. and Mrs. James Rowland of El Dorado spent Thanksgiving here with their sister, Mrs. M. J. Pearson.

Miss Ruth Hartman of Atlanta, Ga., is spending the holidays here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Hartman.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Satin of Hilly spent Thanksgiving in Farmerville with their daughter, Mrs. Maurice Baxter and Mr. Baxter.

Mr. E. N. Kilpatrick and daughter, Miss Johnny Nell spent two days the first of the week at Baton Rouge. His son, Mr. Tex Kilpatrick, student at L. S. U. accompanied them home for the Thanksgiving holidays.

Mr. Jones Edward Booth, student at Tulane University, New Orleans spent the Thanksgiving holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jones M. Booth.

CLAIBORNE METHODIST CHURCH

Calhoun Road

F. L. Hearne, pastor.

J. O. Fleming, church school supt.

The worst kind of murder is killing time. People who do nothing but that merit the strongest condemnation. Life is made up of time, and time is the raw material which can be transformed into something of worth and enduring beauty. If we have plenty of leisure, we should use it for the relief of some burdened life, the gladening of some shadowed soul. If leisure is limited, then the most must be made of it. But why only leisure? Christ filled every day and hour with high and noble effort. Should we do less?

Services at our church will be:

Sunday: Church School, 9:45 a.m.

Morning service, 10:50 a.m. Sermon by Rev. Eric J. Reaves of Fayetteville, Ark.

Visitation evangelism Sunday afternoon at 2:30 p.m. Instruction at 2 p.m. and visitation afterward.

We invite all members of the McGuire Methodist Church, and all friends to attend all services of the great simultaneous revival in which we are participating every night throughout this week. Rev. Eric J. Reaves of Fayetteville, Ark., will be the principal speaker for the revival here at the McGuire Methodist Church. Reverend Reaves is one of the approved evangelists of the Methodist church and is well qualified to lead us in this great crusade.

The visitation committee will meet every evening, beginning Monday at 6 p.m. for a light luncheon, and then go into the class of instruction. After the class of instruction each team will be assigned prospects for church membership, and go out visiting for Christ and His church.

Even in Winter, everyone perspires!

DIAL DAVE GARROWAY, NBC, Weekdays

Dial with AT-7 (Hexachlorophene) cleans away thousands of odor-causing bacteria that ordinary soaps leave on your skin.

Better than ordinary soap!

Doctors proved it! No ordinary soap can get you so clean as Dial with AT-7. In surgical scrub-up tests, doctors found that AT-7 soap leaves skin 10 times freer of bacteria than even strong hospital soaps. Yet Dial is mild and gentle as a soap can be!

Better than deodorants!

Not just underarm—but all-over protection! That's what Dial gives you—without stopping normal perspiration. Bathing daily with Dial removes up to 95% of skin bacteria that cause odor. Gives you all-over freshness no deodorant can equal!

Depend on DIAL—the soap that stops odor before it starts!
